Attends Lehman Funeral

Strong Security Precautions for Johnson as He Goes to New York

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the tightest security nets ever wrapped around a president greeted Lyndon B. Johnson Sunday in his first trip from Washington as chief executive.

About 5,000 policemen, detectives and Secret Service agents were deployed along the route that took Johnson from Idlewild Airport to the funeral of former New York Gov. Herbert H. Lehman and then to the Waldorf-Astoria Towers for a call on ex-President Herbert Hoover.

Not until Johnson reached Temple Emanu-El for the Lehman funeral did the Secret Service, on a half-hour's notice, inform New York police that the President would visit the ailing Hoover.

Johnson, the nation's 36th president, thanked Hoover, the 31st, for a message the latter

Nikita Maps Big Expansion In Chemistry

BY ANTHONY WHITE

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev outlined today a seven-year program to triple the output of the Soviet Union's chemical industry.

A major aim of the program is a big increase in production of chemical fertilizer to prevent the agricultural shortages which have been plaguing the Soviet economy.

Khrushchev told a plenary session of the Soviet Communist Party Central Committee that the government between 1964 and 1970 would invest more than 42 billion rubles ($46.62 billion at the official exchange rate) in development of the chemical industry and application of chemicals to agriculture.

During the seven-year period, he said, approximately 200 new chemical plants will be built and more than 500 existing plants will be reconstructed.

Khrushchev said the program would increase the output of chemical products 3 to 3½ times.

Six thousand party functionaries crowded into the Kremlin to hear Khrushchev's plans. The meeting in the Kremlin's modernistic palace of congresses had only this single item on its agenda, underlining the high importance Khrushchev places on building the chemical industry.

The meeting is expected to last about three days. Attending it are party activists from every part of the Soviet Union, including regional political chiefs, scientists, production specialists, state and collective farm directors and agricultural specialists.

Khrushchev hopes to increase chemical fertilizer production from the current 20 million tons to 35 million tons in 1965. He has advised Western businessmen that Russia is in the market for complete fertilizer plants and wants to buy large quantities of Western equipment for the industry.

Plane Skids Into Field at Landing

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — A United Air Lines plane with 50 persons aboard skidded into a field while completing a landing Sunday night at Greater Buffalo International Airport. No one was injured.

A spokesman for United said he did not know why the four-engine turboprop plane left the runway. It was not damaged, he said.

The craft, carrying 46 passengers and a crew of four, had flown here from Philadelphia.

Wounded Lodi Police Chief Continues in Serious Condition

LODI, Wis. (AP) — Police Chief Forrest Bishop, who was shot twice as he attempted to break up a family argument, remained in serious condition in a Madison hospital today.

The 45-year-old Bishop, wounded in the abdomen, underwent surgery Saturday at University Hospitals.

In the same hospital is Charles Kilian, 36, of Apple Valley, Ill., who was charged with attempted murder in the shooting. Kilian suffered a skull fracture and head wounds in a fight with Bishop.

The warrant was issued by Columbia County Dist. Atty. David H. Bennett, who said Sunday night that Kilian had admitted the shooting.

Frank Sinatra Jr. Seized by Two Men in Motel Room

Police Seek Youths for Questioning

STATELINE, Calif. (AP) —

Frank Sinatra Jr., singing son of the famed crooner and film star, was abducted by two men at gunpoint Sunday night from his motel room just before he was to go on stage at a casino.

Several hours later police radio broadcasts alerted all units to look for two men for questioning. They were identified as Joseph James Sorce, 23, and Thomas Patrick Keating, 21.

Officers available to newsmen gave no reason why the men were sought. Nor were they identified further.

In San Francisco, however, police said Keating and Sorce were wanted for a bank robbery in Long Beach and that they were escapees from a youth authority camp at Tracy, Calif.

Roadblocks Set Up
Authorities said the FBI had been called in on the case.

Deputies immediately set up roadblocks on mountain roads in the Lake Tahoe area, already made difficult by three inches of snow.

Sheriff George Byers of Douglas County, Nev., said "we still think they are in the area," on the California-Nevada border.

Sinatra Sr. flew in his two-engine plane to the area early today from Palm Springs, Calif. He was to start work this morning at Warner Bros. studio in Los Angeles on the movie, "Robin and the Seven Hoods."

Dropped Gambling Tieup
Only three months ago he announced he would divest himself of Nevada gambling interests estimated to be worth about $3.5 million.

He pulled out after the Nevada Gaming Control Board accused him of violating state regulations by entertaining Chicago underworld figure Sam Giancana at Sinatra's Cal-Neva Lodge on Lake Tahoe.

Ironically, young Sinatra was touring with a band, led by Sam Donahue, billed as the Tommy Dorsey Band. Sinatra Sr. rose to fame with that group, and in

Madison Youth Dies In Shooting Accident

MADISON (AP) — Michael L. Dunn, 17, was killed Sunday when struck in the head by a bullet from a shotgun he was using to load.

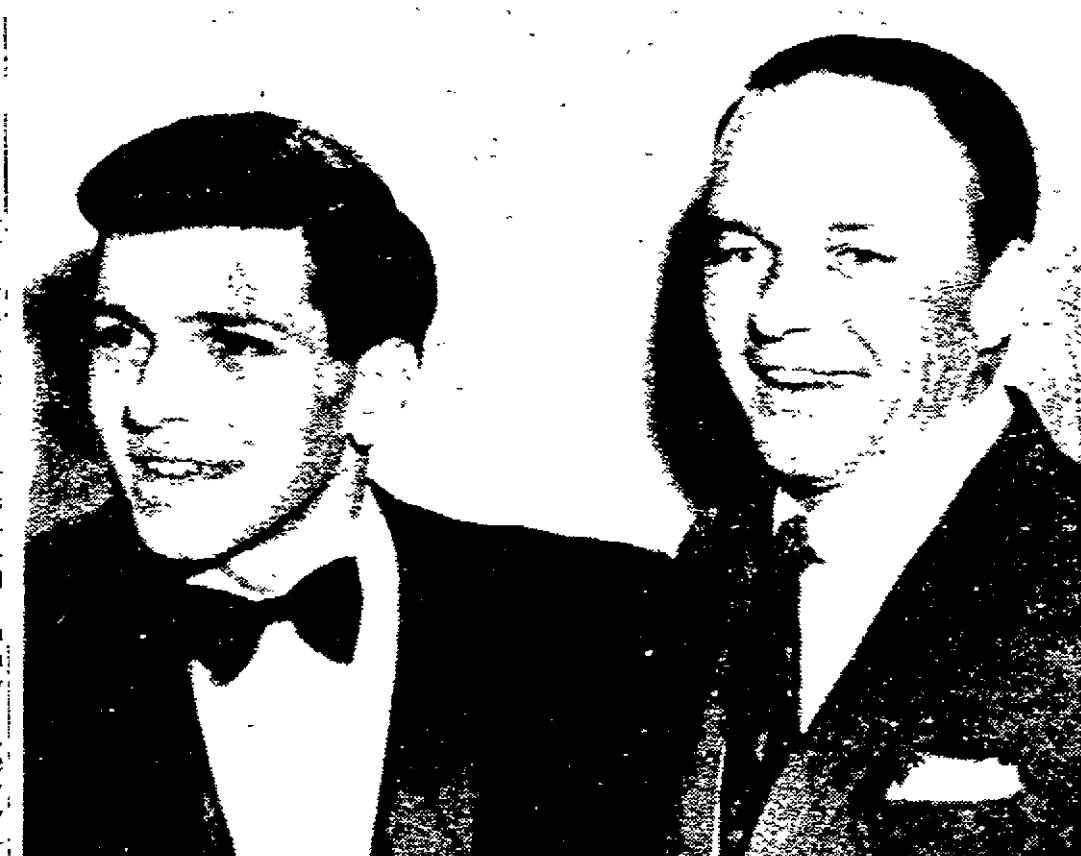

Dane County Coroner John Stevenson said Michael, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Dunn of Madison, had been hunting in a field north of Madison and was getting ready to return home when the gun discharged.

Two submachine guns rode in an open car immediately behind the President's. Two police helicopters patrolled overhead. Officers gazed suspiciously at open apartment windows, and the occupants inside shut them hastily at times.

At Temple Emanu-El, the largest Jewish house of worship in the world, 2,200 mourners and visitors were screened. Pocketbooks were inspected. Cameras were prohibited. A bundle of newspapers was required to be left outside.

Newsman in Balcony
Packages were opened — one contained a bologna sandwich and two apples.

The temple's 300-seat balcony was restricted to newsmen. The police bomb squad checked floral displays at the funeral before the presidential party arrived.

Indian Bond Plan On Welfare Basis

Governor Against Buying Securities as Investment

MADISON — Gov. Reynolds bonds such bonds at market today refused to support a plan value which was tentatively estimated at $3 million worth of bonds of Men-lar.

The governor said such purchase would not really be sound investment for the state, that ed Indian owners of the bonds instead.

The Governor said he will propose to the Legislature, which meets here Tuesday under his call to consider a highway construction program, that the state Department of Public Welfare be authorized to buy the bonds of Indians who will be legally entitled to sell them in the open market after Jan. 1, or lend money on them to individuals who are in financial difficulties.

Portage Man Held By FBI on Charges Of Swindling 15

NEW YORK (AP) — A Portage, Wis., man has been arrested by the Federal Bureau of Investigation on charges that he swindled 15 people by representing himself on the telephone as someone they knew.

FBI agents said Saturday night that Duane M. Austin, 39, collected at least $435 by telling persons in telephone conversations that he had lost his wallet and needed money.

He was charged with violating the fraud-by-wire statute of the U.S. code.

Austin, who identified himself as a baton twirling teacher and the 1934 champion of the National Baton Twirling Association, made amounts ranging from $15 to $80 on each telephone call, the FBI said.

He said he made long-distance, collect phone calls from here to such places as Albuquerque, N.M., Lubbock, Tex., and Kenosha, Wis., using six aliases since last June. Austin requested that they send the money in care of Western Union offices here, the FBI said.

Jet Airliner Shattered as Burning Debris Drops Over Maryland-Delaware Area

ELKTON, MD. (AP) — A four-engine jet airliner exploded and crashed last night, killing all 81 persons aboard. Investigators looked for a cause today, as police searched for victims in a muddy cornfield.

The Boeing 707 of Pan American World Airways plunged to earth in fiery fragments from 5,000 feet during a thunderstorm. Witnesses said it was struck by lightning.

"It (lightning) could cause it," said B. R. Allen of the Civil Aeronautics Board, one of two federal officials heading the investigation.

"We really can't tell until we look at the wreckage."

The plane, en route from Puerto Rico to Philadelphia with 73 passengers—two of them infants—and a crew of eight, came down in a stubbled cornfield about 15 miles southwest of Wilmington, Del., near U. S. 40 and the Maryland-Delaware border.

Morrison to Face Runoff In Louisiana

U. S. 'Intervention' Made Big Issue in Governorship Race

NEW ORLEANS (AP) —

Front-running de Lesseps Morrison faced the issue of "federal intervention" today as he plunged into a bitter runoff for Louisiana's governorship.

"The people have demanded from the candidates their stand on federal intervention in state affairs," runnerup John McKeithen said.

McKeithen, 45, who had attacked the administration's civil rights program during the 10-man first Democratic primary, made it clear he would resume an anti-Washington campaign.

Such attacks halted with President Kennedy's slaying. Stresses States Rights

McKeithen, state public service commissioner, said the states rights issue "was borne out" by the fourth and fifth-place finishes of two strong segregationists — former Gov. Robert F. Kennon and Shelby H. Jackson, state superintendent of education.

Morrison, 51, appointed to a diplomatic post by Kennedy, attempted to steer the runoff toward local topics. He said the issues were the need for a government cleanup and a positive boost-Louisiana program.

Turned Liberal
A former ambassador to the Organization of American States, Morrison for years has been regarded as a liberal in this Deep South state. Morrison

By good chance, about 65 persons had stepped safely off the plane during a stop in Baltimore only a few minutes earlier.

"It was a funny noise, a sound I had never heard before, unbelievable," said Mrs. Dean Wilmoth, who lives in the village of Meadow view near Elkton.

"We knew there would be no survivors out of it, because it was just a ball of fire."

The plane disintegrated in the air. Sheriff Edgar Startt said bits of wreckage fell over an area of four square miles. The cornfield was a rain-soaked jumble of burning bits of wreckage.

Sailors Join Search
As officials met to plan their investigation of the tragedy, a skirmish-like line of state troopers and sailors from the nearby Bainbridge, Md., Naval Base moved through the fields of cornstalks. The sailors were told to raise their hands when they found anything."

As hands began popping up, white-coated troopers answered each call, tagging the remains and returning them in plastic bags for transportation to a temporary morgue set up in the Elkton National Guard Armory.

No one could tell how many victims were being found. It was seldom there was anything large enough to be identified at all.

The Federal Aviation Agency in Washington said the plane was on a holding pattern near the New Castle, Del., Airport at 8:58 p.m. (EST) awaiting clearance to approach Philadelphia International Airport.

Then, said Raymond Gregg of Elkton, "It was just like the sun was coming at me. It was so bright I couldn't look at it."

Another witness, Henry Lindell of Newark, Del., said it was apparent to him that lightning had blasted the plane from the air.

Saw Streaks of Lightning
"There were two large arched streaks of lightning in the air," he said. "An instant afterward the sky was completely lit up by a bright orange. You could see the parts of the plane starting to fall then."

Early today, 11 Civil Aeronautics Board and 7 FAA officials arrived to start the investigation. The area was cordoned off and flares sent an eerie light over the torn, blasted and charred wreckage.

There were few large pieces of wreckage, although one big jet engine dug a hole 100 yards from the home of Gregg. Small bits of airplane parts fell on the farmhouse roof of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Berry.

Recorder Not Found

Edwin R. Tully, special agent in charge of the FBI office in Baltimore, said the flight recorder, which is designed to survive crashes and tell investigators about the minutes preceding the disaster, had not been found.

Tully confirmed that several witnesses had said lightning struck the plane.

Pan Am said Flight 214 departed San Juan at 4:10 p.m. and arrived in Baltimore at 7:35 p.m., where the 71 passengers got off. It left Baltimore at 8:25 p.m. and was expected in Philadelphia at 8:45 p.m., 15 minutes behind schedule.

Last Word by Radio

The airline said the last known radio contact between the plane and ground was a terse, terrifying message: "Going down in flames at 0153 Zebra" (8:53 p.m. EST).

The message reportedly was overheard by the ground control center in New Castle, Del., and at Dover, (Del.) Air Force Base.

Witnesses said burning fragments spiraled lazily to the ground, then exploded into small fires despite a pelting rain.

Jerry Greenwald, 20, of Hockessin, Del., watched the crash from a window of the Merryland Roller Rink near Glasgow, Del.

Resembled Bomb Blast

"It looked like a bomb explosion," he said. "There was a big flash and a few seconds later you could see the wing torn off. You could actually see people falling out. The plane came down slowly and when it hit the ground it looked like it exploded again."

The wreckage was so disintegrated that no bodies were found immediately. A temporary morgue, set up in the basement of the National Guard Armory in Elkton, was empty.

Red Cross workers sadly turned away a handful of relatives who drove from Philadelphia. Some 40 or 45 state policemen planned to help the federal agents comb the wreckage.

Relatives Wait in Vain

The scene was one of anguished sorrow at Philadelphia International Airport, where relatives waited for the plane that never arrived.

George H. Lewis, a resident of Delancy Road, where much of the shredded debris fell, said:

"When I first saw it—the plane—the flames were coming out slowly. Then the wind was pushing them back and it looked like a large tornado."

Flames High in Air

"When it hit, flames shot up higher than the house. It was strewn over a large area. There were overnight bags and clothes right in the middle of the road."

"There was a strong odor of fuel burning. I saw that there didn't appear to be any survivors."

Grim-faced policemen tossed clothing, luggage, papers and other debris into piles. One was asked if anything had been found intact.

"If there is, I haven't seen it, and I've been pretty much around the area," he replied.

Pine trees and a cornfield were covered with debris until they looked like macabre Christmas trees.

Three persons were killed in a two-car Waukesha County collision late Saturday. They were Robert A. Hughlett, Jr., 30, of rural Harland, Mrs. V. L. Swartz, 55, and Robert C. Jungbluth, 49, both of Milwaukee.

his act the younger Sinatra sang his father's old songs.

Also ironically, young Sinatra sang at Harrah's Lake Tahoe Casino, a competitor of his father's Cal-Neva Lodge.

Dragnet operations were directed by the El Dorado, Calif., County sheriff's office, because the abduction took place just within the California border.

Stateline is 60 miles southwest of Reno.

Joe Foss, a trumpeter with the Dorsey band, told officers he and Sinatra Jr. were eating dinner in Sinatra's motel room.

About 8:30 p.m., the telephone rang and Sinatra hung up after a brief conversation.

Demanded Money

At about 9:30, Foss reported, there was a knock on the door and a shout of "room service."

Two men, one armed with a small revolver, burst in, asking "Where's the money?"

sheriff's deputies said Foss told them.

They took the small amount in the two men's wallets, then tied and gagged Foss with tape.

Foss said they also taped Sinatra's hands.

Foss said a third man might have been standing outside. One man carried a package of some sort, he added.

Tracks Toward Reno

After forcing Foss to lie on the floor, the men left with Sinatra. Tire tracks heading towards Reno were found later.

Sinatra is one of the entertainer's three children. His mother is Sinatra Sr.'s first wife, the former Nancy Barbato, who was reported at her Hollywood home.

Gene Evans, spokesman for Harrah's Club on the south shore of Lake Tahoe, said young Sinatra's room was on the second floor of the two-story motel, separated by a parking lot from the casino. The motel is used exclusively for Harrah's guests.

No Mention of Ransom

Evans said there was no mention of any possible ransom during the motel room incident.

One of the men was heard to say, "We've got him. We've got to get him to Sacramento."

Sacramento, the state capital of California, is 132 miles in the opposite direction from Reno where the tire tracks appeared to lead.

Sinatra Sr. arrived at Reno airport early today and was met by Washoe County Dist. Atty. William Raggio. The two left immediately off the sheriff's substation at Zephyr Cove on Lake Tahoe where search headquarters had been set up.

But snow and icy roads forced them to postpone the trip and Raggio announced they were staying in Reno for the time being.

Sinatra had no statement for newsmen, but Raggio said the singer-actor was very concerned and upset. Raggio said he and Sinatra are good friends and he stressed that he is taking no official part in the case since the kidnaping occurred outside his jurisdiction.

Bipartisan Praise Seen for GOP Statement

Laird Reads Policy Warning of Distrust And Accusations

BY FRANCES McKUSICK

WASHINGTON — House Democrats as well as Republicans

Friday praised a GOP "Statement of Policy" which Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Marshfield, helped to frame and which warned Americans not to let "distrust and unwarranted accusations" divide their country.

After the statement was read on the House floor by Laird, several Democrats told the congressman it was "about time" some of the points raised in the statement were brought to the attention of the public.

One of these points in the policy statement said "we are told hate was the assassin that struck down our President. If it were hatred, then that hatred was bred by the teachings of Communism."

Efforts to make Americans generally feel guilty of the crime are now obscuring the very nature of the crime," the statement continued. "Rather than setting American against American, the tragic event (assassination of Mr. Kennedy) should set all Americans firmly against the alien doctrine which, alone in the world today, preaches destruction, employs murder as a tool and threatens violence around the globe. That doctrine is the doctrine of Communism."

Acknowledging there was guilt in the act of assassination, the statement pointed out "it is not American guilt. It is the guilt of the murderer."

The second point brought out in the statement cautioned against permitting the "mourning period" for President Kennedy to be used as "a device to cloud the future of honest debate and dissent."

To strengthen this, the statement quoted President Johnson when he said, "Our American unity does not depend on unanimity."

"There must be no inhibition of dissent or quieting of the debate through fear of seeming to disregard the memory of the late President," the statement said. "The denial of discussion would do the greatest disservice to his memory, and to the living nation. National unity must not mean national conformity and no sense of sorrow should distort the good sense of this nation to make it mean that."

Teen-Agers Eligible for Many Jobs, Labor Office Says

Teen-agers can work in many types of jobs, employers inter-ested in hiring young people during the Christmas holidays, are reminded by Earl F. Halverson, the Wisconsin Industrial Commission director of the U. S. Labor Department's wage and hour and public contracts divisions.

The Fair Labor Standards Act, popularly known as the federal wage-hour law, sets standards for employment of young people in jobs in interstate or foreign commerce or in the production of goods for such commerce.

Federal law permits 14- and 15-year-olds to work in a variety of occupations in retail, food service, or gasoline service establishments, provided they work no more than eight hours a day or 40 hours a week during vacation periods. In weeks when school is in session, children of these ages may work no more than three hours a day or 18 hours a week. All their work must be done outside school hours and they may not work before 7 a.m. or after 7 p.m.

Permissible jobs include selling, office work, window trimming, cashing, bagging and carrying out orders, clean-up work, price marking and tagging, and kitchen work.

16-Year Olds The older teen-ager can seek a wider range of jobs, since 16 years is the minimum age for general employment under the Act. The 16- or 17-year-old may work in manufacturing and processing jobs or in any other occupation — except those hazardous for minors under 18 as declared by the Secretary of Labor.

Of the 17 occupations with an 18-year age minimum, two are found in many industries and businesses. These are motor vehicle driver or helper, and elevator operator jobs. Work involving riding a freight elevator, unless run by an assigned operator, is prohibited to minors under 18.

Age Certificates Employers can protect themselves by filing an age or employment certificate with the state.

Crash Damages Cars Extensively KAUKAUNA — Two cars were damaged extensively as a result of a two-car accident about 1:05 a.m. Saturday.

According to police, a car driven by Gary Lee Wolf, 18, 914 Roosevelt St., Kaukauna, was traveling north on Crooks Avenue and as the youth rounded a curve he crossed the center line of the road into the other lane of traffic and was struck broadside by a car driven by Michael J. Landreman, 21, 426 Brill St., Kaukauna, who was traveling south on Crooks Warning Flare Ignites Straw at Sewer Project KAUKAUNA — Firemen were called at 9:50 p.m. Friday to extinguish straw and canvas which was burning at the site of a storm sewer construction project on Kenneth Avenue.

A warning flare tipped igniting dry straw which in turn ignited the canvas, according to firemen.

The Excitement of a summer carnival and the enchantment of Christmas were combined Friday and Saturday as children walked through the Valley Fair Shopping Center Mall with balloons clutched tightly in one hand, a stick of cotton candy in the other and candy canes and toys held tightly under each arm.

It was Candy Cane Carnival time, a scholarship benefit sponsored by the Appleton Junior Woman's Club. Youngsters tested their luck with a Penny Pitch, Clown Ring Toss, Sno-ball Bingo, or fished a gift from Santa's red brick chimney. Others, enchanted by the make-up booth, wore bright Indian feathers and streaks of war paint. When hunger entered the scene, Mrs. Santa's Kitchen was open and filled with appetite tempting aromas.

Mrs. Richard Dratz was general chairman and Mrs. John Rouman, co-chairman.

There Were 'Lots of Chiefs' Friday and Saturday at Valley Fair Shopping Center. Little ones love to pretend, and what better way than with feathers and makeup. Little girls had the option of becoming fairy princesses, complete with magic wand. Many, however, chose the warlike countenance of the Wild West instead. Above, Mrs. Angus McIntyre, Kimberly, bestows ferocious faces on Jerry Chosa Jr., and his sister, JoAnn. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Chosa, Menasha.

Today's Etiquette

BY LOUISE DAVIS

INDULGENT MOTHER

Dear Louise: How can I shame my 18-year-old daughter into tidying her room? I think this involves etiquette because the girl, now in college, is coming home for the holidays. Her room mate will be visiting us for a few days and young friends will be in and out of the house at all times. Ever since my daughter was little, I have scolded her about her room and am ashamed to say that she has always left her clothing on the floor for somebody else to pick up. That somebody, of course, is me. I will be extra busy at Christmas, getting meals and keeping the house in order. There will be two parties here and I won't have the time to constantly pick up after my daughter. Fortunately there is an extra room for the guest. Have you any suggestions for a frustrated mother?

Louise Davis Answers: Although etiquette isn't a part of an academic college education, perhaps your daughter is learning the hard way to be more tidy. I doubt very much that her roommate has been picking up after her. I hope you will make a firm resolution to stay away from your daughter's room and let things lie where they are dropped. I feel that this is something that should have been done years ago. In self defense, I'm sure she would have disciplined herself at least for the sake of pride. It isn't too late if you cooperate by doing nothing. Meanwhile, I suggest that you inform your daughter that it is time that she learned to be tidy and that you have decided that if there is any "neatening-up" to do, she will have to do it herself or face the embarrassment.

WIDOW'S NAME

Dear Louise: I have several widowed friends on my Christmas card list. I am certain that I have read in your column that a woman is still Mrs. John Brown after her husband's death. I am a widow too and last year I received a number of cards addressed to Mrs. Mary Brown. Which is correct?

Louise Davis Answers: A widow is Mrs. John Brown, not Mrs. Mary Brown. The latter indicates that she is divorced.

Spelling Board Low Cost Toy

For the school beginner, here's a suggestion for a low-cost educational toy that Dad or Mom can whip together in no time.

Get a 20" x 24" peg-board from your lumber or building supply dealer. Prime and paint. Then outline the holes spelling the name of the child.

A selection of easy words can be outlined similarly.

With the panel, give a bag of marbles. Placed in the marked holes, the marbles spell the child's name and other simple words.

The youngsters also can use the board to lay out original designs of all types. It will keep him busy for many hours.

Old-Fashioned

Nowadays cottage pudding is often served with chocolate or butterscotch sauce. But if you want a proper old-time accompaniment to the pudding, serve it with a red-jelly or lemon sauce.

Cut out the most interesting portions of several cards, such as a church, a Christmas bell, a Santa Claus, or a singing group. Glue each to a piece of 1/2" pressed hardboard, and used for a wall plaque, shade when the glue is thoroughly dry, or lamp pull, or even a dress trim the hardboard to the ornament.

Yuletide Has Hazards; Compensate With Care

Glass Christmas tree ornaments definitely are not recommended for baby's diet this holiday season.

Absurd statement? Of course. But not as absurd as you might think.

Christmas is a time of bright little lights on a tree in the parlor, of shiny glass ornaments and decorations, of filmy spun glass filaments, of toys that sometimes have sharp, rough edges, of lots of candy, nuts and other rich edibles.

These are a part of Christmas, and no one is suggesting there's anything wrong about it. The American Medical Association at this holiday season, however, points out once again that there are safety hazards at the Christmas season that aren't usually encountered during the rest of the year. A few simple precautions can help insure a safe Christmas for your household.

Check Lights, Ornaments
Check over your old strings of Christmas tree lights and discard those that are worn or brittle. If there are very small children around your house, discard burnt-out bulbs with caution, so that baby can't get at them. Keep the glass ornaments and filmy glass "angel hair" out of baby's reach. The ornaments will crumble readily into sharp splinters. Make absolutely certain that no toys coated with lead-based paint are included in Santa's pack. Lead poisoning is a danger should the child chew on the toy. Most manufacturers now avoid dangerous paints. Select toys with a minimum of sharp, rough edges, toys that won't burn quickly if flicked through a candle flame, toys that are large enough so that baby can't swallow them. Make own List Electrical toys, such as trains, also should be selected with safety in mind. Is the wiring intact and strong, or is it loose and flimsy? Air rifles, sling shots, archery sets and other missile throwing toys are obviously dangerous if carelessly used. Set up target ranges and make certain the youngster is taught to use the toy properly and safely. This list could be continued, but you can make your own. The prime objective of an article such as this one is to remind parents that in the bustle and excitement of Christmas, accidents can happen. Certainly no one wants to spoil the holiday with undue worry. Make your plans for a safe Christmas, and then enjoy it to the hilt.

A Lovelier You

By Mary Sue Miller

The Festive Board

Contrary to some opinion, elaborate decor is not the measure of a charming party table. The simplest decorations are most winning if only they reflect the warmth and wit of the hostess.

At this season, it is possible to trim especially delightful tables at small cost. Purely as a onto a cardboard box, then filling it with favors. To mark each place, top a white paper napkin with a Santa's pack of green hard candies. Plastic squares and red ribbon make a convincing pack. The effect, you may be sure, brings "ohs" from youngsters.

But when it's adult "ohs" you are after, try dressing a buffet table in a golden theme. No cloth is needed, only the gleam of highly polished wood. The golden touches come from a centerpiece of golden delicious apples and gilded leaves. Simply pyramid the apples on a round tray and trim with lemon leaves dipped in metallic dust. A phalanx of gold candles is the finishing touch.

For Christmas dinner let tradition reign — a white damask cloth and holly centerpiece, flanked by tall green tapers. What could better set the scene?

The Ailing House Light Will Go Through Roofing

By Roger C. Whitman

Q: We would like to screen in the patio at the rear of our home, but we have a problem not to cut off all the light from the living room and kitchen windows which face the patio. We'd like to have a permanent type of awning-roof over the area if possible. Is there any kind of weatherproof translucent roofing material available for this?

A: Yes. Panels of corrugated translucent plastic and fiber glass are available at many large building supplies dealers. The amount of light admitted varies somewhat with color selected.

Q: I have a gilt, plaster-carved frame and want to build up another frame I have, of the same size but flat wood, to match it as closely as I can. Is there anything to add to plaster of Paris to slow down its hardening? I want to be able to mold the stuff before it sets.

A: Dissolving a small amount of glue in the mixing water, or using a mixing solution of half water and half vinegar, will slow down the plaster's hardening time, give you more time for careful sculpting.

Q: We have an air conditioner in our bedroom window. We get a bad draft from around the unit. How can this be eliminated?

A: Place foam rubber gaskets around the edge of the unit. Or use a stringy, puttylike caulking material to close the gaps around the air conditioner. Just press this down firmly all around the edges. This material can be peeled off any time later, when desired. Available in hardware, housewares and variety stores. A tighter seal also helps during the summer, keeping cool air in and warm air out.

Research of Virus Cold Cure Continues

What can you do for the common cold?

Most folks know you can't cure it. Yet we still waste a lot of time and money on pills and nostrums and treatments—all in the faint hope that maybe this time something will help.

Actually, grandma's home therapy is still good. If you get a cold, stay home in bed. Keep warm. Gargle to ease a sore throat. Take aspirin for the discomfort. None of this will cure the cold, but it will make you feel somewhat more comfortable while your body's natural defense mechanisms are building up enough steam to overcome the cold virus.

Vaccine Not Cure

From time to time there have been vaccines to protect against colds. To really protect, the vaccine would have to include many different viruses. Some of the viruses that cause colds are most likely haven't yet even been identified. It's unlikely that a vaccine will help much.

Ask your doctor for his recommendation in your individual case. Almost everyone has a cold or two during the course of the winter. Usually we try to keep going to the office, but sometimes we feel too bad to work and spend a day or two at home.

Antihistamines Help

There are medications now available, in the area of antihistamines can cause drowsiness, which could be highly dangerous to the driver of an auto. If you get a cold, ask your doctor about the new medications ing cool air in and warm air out.

Q: Our stucco house is more than 20 years old and has never been painted. It's very dirty looking after all these years. Is there any way to clean stucco? We don't want to paint, if we can avoid it.

A: Easiest method of cleaning the stucco is to have a building cleaning contractor remove the dirt by steam. Cleaning the stucco yourself, by scrubbing with a strong detergent, then rinsing with clear water (it can be hosed down) is a really tedious job. Too tedious, in fact!

Q: The concrete floor in our basement is very irregular and has a number of deep depressions. We want to put down asphalt tile. How can we make the floor level first?

A: To level small irregularities and depressions, floor leveling compounds are available at tile dealers; deeper depressions should be filled with patching concrete. I suggest consulting your tile dealer about this, as well as obtaining tile manufacturer's detailed installation instructions and recommendations.

Questions On Sewing

SEAMS TO ME
By Patricia Scott

Q. What is the difference between a double-stitched seam and a double-topstitched seam?

— MRS. A. C.
A. A double-topstitched seam (Figure A) is made by stitching the seam and pressing it open as usual. Then, on the right side, stitch close to both sides of the seam line. This is used on tailored garments as a decorative finish. A double-stitched seam (Figure B) is a seam finish used on sheer fabrics and those that ravel easily.

First, stitch a plain seam. Then stitch a second row  $\frac{1}{2}$  inch from the first. Trim the seam allowance very close to the second row of stitching.

Q. Why at times does the thread in the needle break? What causes seam to pucker?

— MRS. G.J.
A. Breaking might be caused by improper threading, a knot in the thread, upper tension too tight, needle blunt or bent, needle not inserted in clamp as far as it will go, needle in backwards, thread too coarse for needle, roughened hole in throat turning is even. Then, machine-stitch on the seam tape  $\frac{1}{4}$  inch from the skirt edge, easing the tape slightly and using 10 stitches per inch. Pin your hem in place, matching seams. Blind-hem seam tape to garment. First, always pre-shrink the tape with a steam iron.

Q. How do I measure for chest width when altering patterns? I don't really know which is chest and which is bust measurement. — MRS. D.H.
A. Measure for chest width at a point six inches down from the shoulder seam at the neckline. Then measure from armhole seam to armhole seam. For the bust, measure the fullest part, keeping the tape parallel to the floor. Measure both front and back between side seams.

In response to requests for reprints of her series on slipcovers, Patricia Scott has compiled them in booklet form, How to Make Slipcovers. For your copy of this helpful booklet, write to Miss Scott in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

plate or improper arrangement of thread when starting to sew. Puckered seams might be caused by tension too tight, stitch too long for material being sewn, wrong presser foot, and wrong thread being used on fabric such as a synthetic.

Q. I'm a beginner and I always mess up applying seam binding to the hem of a skirt. Tell me how to do it so it is in the right place. — MISS S.L.
A. I assume that you have measured your hem length carefully. Now trim the bottom edge of the skirt so the distance between the bottom edge and hem

As youngsters we heard the old folks say: Treat a cold and you can cure it in two weeks; let it alone and it will go away in a fortnight. The time element isn't that exact, but the theory is the same.

Much research is being done on cause and possible cure for colds. Perhaps the answers will be found some day. But as of now we can't cure colds and anyone who tells you he can, deserves at best considerable suspicion.

Golden Ager Give Assist to Mr. Claus

A Merry Christmas was assured hundreds of Fox Cities youngsters Friday and Saturday as their favorite Santa Clauses took advantage of the shiny 'like new' toys, games and gifts offered by members of the Appleton Golden Age Club. When the sale began at 10 a.m. Friday, customers were lined up and ready to purchase the toys which had been cleaned, repaired and repainted by members of the club.

The Toy Hospital project has been underway for months at the Golden Age Clubhouse. Assisting the older workers have been members of the Welcome Wagon Newcomers Club and Civic League. Mrs. Elinor Anderson was general chairman of the project.

"See, Mom, my feet reach just right," says Donald Gossens to Mrs. Norbert Gossens. Kimberly. They shopped Friday at the Golden Age Clubhouse, along with hundreds of others who took home 'like new' toys repaired by members of the Golden Age Club. At right, a cuddly dog, for herself, or perhaps a Christmas gift, is purchased by Debbie Conrad from Mrs. Peter Petrus. (Post-Crescent Photos)

Almost Everyone Who Attended the sale left with an armload of packages Friday and Saturday. The clubhouse was decorated for the occasion with holly and colored lights, and the rooms full of toys and games were as popular with parents as with their children. Women members of the club sold fancy work, aprons and knit goods at the two-day event. Above, Bill Miller stands with a new toy as Mrs. Arthur Harmon and his mother, Mrs. Gilbert Mueller, compare their purchases.

Chilton Legion Unit Collects Used Clothes

CHILTON — One hundred pounds of used clothing were collected by the Chilton American Legion Auxiliary for its child welfare project, "Save the Children."

The seven juniors present at the meeting Thursday at the City Hall received scrapbooks to be sent to the Southern and Northern homes for the mentally retarded. The juniors will paste pictures in the books.

The local unit will send gifts to its adopted patient at Calumet Homestead and Earl Otto, a local disabled veteran.

Butternut key strips and coupons were brought to the meeting. Mrs. Norbert Euclid, president, will forward them to the proper place.

Auxiliary members have ordered 2,500 poppies for their spring sale in May.

In charge of program arrangements were Mrs. Emil Jodar, Mrs. Kathryn Minahan and Mrs. Art Berrens. Lunch was served by Mrs. Eugene Ninedorf, Mrs. Art Keuler, Mrs. Leonard Klein and Mrs. Oscar Kossman.

Ann's Ready to Print Fellows Beefs About Campus Females

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Re-day evening? The boy who cently the girls in our college calls a girl for a date should be polled. The question ask- have some sort of entertainment in mind. It's unfair to put the girl in the awkward position of suggesting a movie or a play or a dance because the fellow may not have the money or transportation for such an evening.

The girls unanimously agreed that the biggest drip of all is the guy who stands at the door and says, "May I kiss you?" It's not too bad if the girl doesn't want to be kissed — all she has to say is "No." But thing Saturday night? No girl waiting for a kiss after saying, "Yes, you may" is gruesome. The fellow who hasn't conf- arent doing a darned thing. The second most creepy guy on campus is the one who asks: I ter and I agree wholeheartedly.

And now may we hear from the fellows? What are your beefs about the females on campus? Send 'em, and I'll print 'em — that is, if they're printable.

DEAR ANN LANDERS My husband and I went shopping for Christmas gifts for our children and ended up in a big argument right in the toy department.

My husband wanted to buy some fancy gun and holster sets for our sons. I said no. I feel strongly that there is too much emphasis today on violence, shooting and murder. Any evening of any week will find the living-room piled high with corpses from TV thrillers. These shoot-'em-ups are labeled "family entertainment."

I am opposed to a daily diet of brutality and death and I do not allow our 7- and 9-year-old boys to watch TV indiscriminately for this reason.

My husband says guns, cowboys and Indians and cops and robbers are all part of growing up. He claims make-believe shooting games are a healthy outlet for youthful energies, and since the good guys always win in the end it teaches children respect for the law.

We did not buy the guns yesterday but my husband said I should write to you because he's sure your answer would support his viewpoint then and he could buy the guns later. What do you say? — Myrna

Dear Myrna Sorry, but if your husband is waiting for me to tell him to go back and buy guns for the kids, he'll wait a long time.

I recommend as "energy outlets" footballs, baseballs, ping pong sets, roller skates, ice skates, tricycles and bicycles. These are vastly better than guns.

I agree with you, mother—continuous viewing of brutality and violence is bad for children. Guns are for killing, and toy guns make a game of destruction.

Ann Landers' frank and informative new book, "Teen-Agers and Sex" ($2.95), is now available at your book store.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. (Copyright, 1963)

Sheinwold Use Energy In Proper Direction

Bridge is an easy game if you think of the right things. It is a hard game to play well if you waste your energy thinking of the wrong plays. The difference shows up clearly in a dummy. East would cover with hand taken from a recent rubber bridge game.

West led the queen of diamonds, and dummy's king won. Declarer led the ten of spades from dummy for a finesse, losing.

from his own hand to start the suit.

It was hard work for South to exhaust these possibilities, but he finally did it. He led a low club from dummy.

When East played low, South finessed with the jack of clubs. This lost to the queen, and South eventually lost another club to East and a heart trick. Down one.

No Better

South would fare no better if he led the ten of clubs from dummy. East would cover with the king to force out declarer's ace. Then South would still lose a club to the nine and another club to the jack.

The point is that South should not be thinking about the clubs at all. After losing the trump finesse South should give up a heart trick. He ruffs the diamond return and gives up another heart, discarding a club from dummy.

No matter what is returned, South can cash the third heart to discard a second club from dummy. This leaves no club losers in the dummy. South can ruff three clubs in dummy. Declarer loses one trump and two hearts, making his game contract.

Daily Question

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes. You hold S 10 9 8 4 3, H 6, D A K 5 3, C 10 4 2. What do you say?

Answer: Bid one spade. Respond in your long suit, not your strong suit.

For Sheinwold's 36-page book about the best way to play the clubs, he could lead the ten from the dummy, a low card from the dummy, or a low card from the dummy, New York 17, N. Y.

Writer Lists Way to Ride Herd on Automobile Costs

BY MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Did you ever know a woman who wasn't completely familiar with her own house and everything in it? Of course not. But did you ever know a woman who knew every last thing about her car? Yet these days a woman spends more time in her car than in her home.

Now nobody says that in order to steer her car around a corner she has to know that the differential permits the outside drive wheel to turn faster to go a greater distance. But it might be a good thing for the family budget if she knew the life expectancy of the various parts of her car, and how much it may someday cost to have them replaced!

For instance, consider these possible replacements — their life expectancy and the price range:

Part	Life Expectancy	Price Range
Master brake cyl.	Up to 4 years	$3-$15 each, depending if new or rebuilt
Brake drums	Up to life of car	$15-$40 each
Carburetor	10,000-20,000 miles	$5-$75 depending on size & if new or reb.
Muffler	1-2 years	$10-$40

Expect Trouble

These and many other estimates are cited in a little book, entitled "Is the Auto Right?", put out by the Automotive Council for Women, Inc., an organization headed by a woman, who gives credit to automobile dealers and oil companies.

As the author points out: "There are over 2,000 moving parts in a modern automobile. Compare this number with the 50 some odd in an automatic washer. It's reasonable that things may go wrong. Few of us are interested in taking apart and fixing either a washer or an automobile. But we have learned that proper care and use of washers, sweepers, sewing machines and toasters makes them last longer, run better. The same is true with automobiles, only more so." Under the heading of "Caution," the point is made that the wise shopper compares prices on major expenses. Sometimes one dealer may advise an expensive new part or service, another may discover that a small part is needed or simply an adjustment.

Service station dealers subscribe to price list manuals, the author reminds you. These manuals are replaced each year. There is also a guide to labor charges, showing how many minutes it should take to install or repair the part or complete

Message of Hope and Peace

'Quickness of Pace, Vitality' in Lawrence 'Messiah' Performance

BY DON VORPAHL

In the custom of the last 47 years, a huge audience gathered Sunday night in Lawrence Memorial Chapel to again hear the immortality of George Frederick Handel's oratorio, "Messiah," sung by the Lawrence College Choral Society.

Like each year of that near-half century, audience and performers found many satisfactions for their trouble. For some, of voice lines. "Messiah" is the real beginning of the Christmas season, with a message of hope and peace. For vocalists' circle, Mari Taniguchi, soprano, and John Koopman, bass-baritone, were chosen from and beautiful. Whatever the case, as always, the oratorio, Vorisek, tenor, came from Osh-continues to be a winner, and Louise Cooley, contralto, from Chicago.

Conductor LaVahn Maesch, now in his 11th year at the helm, has imparted a vigorous spirit to the 225-voice chorus, soloists and small instrumental ensemble, a spirit that last night capitalized on quickness of pace and vitality to bring Handel's work alive. There was little sluggishness that could so easily creep into so large a choral group.

Women drivers will be glad to read this comment: "Another excellent barometer (of car trouble) is your intuition. A strange feeling tells you something is wrong. You are usually right." Isn't it nice to see this in print?

We don't realize that the way we tend to use our cars nowadays actually decreases peak performance. Women, especially, use the short-run, start-and-top routine because errands require it. If you're in charge of maintaining the family car, you should know what to expect in the way of routine services when you stop at a service station for gas. You should know the wisdom of rotating tires every 5,000 miles and how to compute gasoline taxes for your income tax return. These suggestions and others are spelled out in the booklet available from the Automotive Council for Women, Inc., 116 East 62nd Street, New York 21, New York for 35 cents.

The cost of operating a car figures so important in the family budget these days it pays to know where your money goes and why.

You can write Mary Feeley in care of this newspaper. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for answer.

Pleads Innocent to Attempted Murder

Accuse Larry Johnson of Trying to Kill Brother-in-Law Ramon John

OSHKOSH — Pleas of innocent and innocent by reason of insanity were entered this morning by Larry Johnson, 25, 1100 Mayer St., Menasha, charged with attempted murder in the Nov. 20 shooting of Ramon John, 34, 525 Second St., Menasha.

Upon request for a 12-man jury trial, County Judge James V. Sitter ordered the case transferred to Circuit Court where Judge Arnold J. Cane will set a trial date. Bond was continued at $15,000.

Johnson was shot, allegedly by Johnson, his brother-in-law, at the Wayside Inn, Ninth and Racine streets in the Town of Menasha, early in the evening of Nov. 20 after a disagreement over who would buy a round of drinks after a pool game.

Critically Injured

John was shot twice, once below the ribs on the right side and once in the upper right thigh. He was critically injured, but is recovering.

According to three fellow employees who testified at the preliminary examination Nov. 29, John and Johnson had a "slight disagreement" about it being Johnson's turn to buy the drinks. Johnson left the bar and returned a short time later with a pistol, shooting John at close range, the witnesses testified.

John, Johnson, William Dowling Jr., 316 E. Doty Ave., Neenah, and James Mener, 808 Broad St., Menasha, had stopped at the tavern on their way home from work at the George Banta Publishing Co. Midway Plant in the Town of Menasha.

Brochure on Appleton Parking Is Available

Map Locating East, West Ramps Plus Metered and Free Lots Is Available

More than 30,000 copies of a brochure on Appleton's newest downtown off-street parking facilities will be made available for distribution this week by the Retail Division of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce.

The brochure includes a map of downtown Appleton which spots the city's new East and West ramps, municipal metered and free parking lots and a privately operated ramp. The map also shows one way streets and distribution started today.

The brochure says downtown Appleton now has more than 5,000 parking places. Parking lots and ramps are designed for long-term parking needs, with times ranging from two to 24 hours, while street parking times are scaled to permit quick stops and maximum turnover, it says.

Merchants' Enthusiasm Maury Wood, chairman of the parking promotion committee of the Chamber, said a copy of the map will be presented to Mayor Clarence Mitchell to indicate the enthusiasm of the merchants in helping the city council promote Appleton's fine parking facilities.

Wood and committee members Gus Zuehlke and Bernard Pearlman commended the mayor and city officials for their assistance in preparation of the brochure.

State Miscalculation Results In Error; Added Rebate Amounts To $3 Per Thousand Dollars

Residents of Appleton's second taxpayer of $6.15, only 19 cents and precinct in the 9th Ward lower than anticipated (Calumet County) received a Ald. Robert Stumpf (9th ward) larger sales tax credit refund cated he was "quite disturbed" than originally announced Nov. 28 as were several residents of his ward when the original announcement came from Madison, indicating the refund would be almost cut in half.

H. W. Harder of the Wisconsin Department of Taxation at Madison notified city officials a miscalculation had been made instead of getting $14,646. The figure has been boosted to $25,925.

On the basis of the $14,646 the more than 1,200 property owners in the precinct would have only received a credit refund of $3.47 per $1,000 assessed valuation as compared to $6.34 this year.

19 Cents Lower However, as a result of the latest development the $25,925 represents a credit refund to the Stumpf wrote the taxation department and inquired as to why the refund figure dropped as much as it did.

Harder wrote Stumpf and informed him of the miscalculation. "Needless to say, the people in the precinct were happy to get the news because at first they were really shook up," Stumpf said today.

City Clerk Elden Broem also received a communication from Harder explaining what had transpired and indicating the correction was in order.

Valuation Credit It was reported that in first figuring the Calumet County rebate, more valuation credit was given to Outagamie County than should have. The difference will be picked up in arriving at the 1965 allocations and will be of minor significance to the City of Appleton.

The refunds are used by taxpayers to apply against 1964 real estate tax bills.

Ironically, in some instances allocations were more than originally estimated by the state and municipalities, some cities getting more than anticipated and others less.

That portion of the City of Appleton not in Calumet County received a $34,238 allocation, $100,000 over this year's figure, representing a "windfall."

As a result of the latest correction, Calumet County residents owning property in Appleton will have a net rate of $41.25 as compared to $41.10 this year.

Festival of Lights

Jews Set for Start of Chanukah Tuesday

Chanukah, the Jewish "Festival of Lights" which symbolizes the fight for religious freedom throughout the ages, will begin this year at sundown Tuesday.

The eight-day holiday has been observed by Jews all over the world for 2,000 years. They observe it by lighting candles for eight days in memory of their struggle for religious freedom during the tyrannical reign of the Graeco-Syrian emperor Antiochus Epiphanes in 165 B.C.

The festival is observed primarily in homes. Families light candles every night of the holiday, beginning with one the first night, two the second, until finally eight candles blaze in a special Chanukah menorah "candelabrum."

Children receive gifts or Chanukah "gelt" — coins or money — for the holiday from parents and relatives on each day of the Chanukah. The historical events which Chanukah commemorates are closely linked with the history of the Greek Near Eastern Empire which, at the death of Alexander the Great, extended from Western Asia to Northern Africa.

In an attempt to fuse his realm into a homogenous kingdom, Antiochus demanded total political and religious loyalty to Greek culture from all the national and religious groups under his dominion. Jews were forbidden, under penalty of death, to observe any of the precepts of Judaism. They defied Antiochus, and from their rebellion emerged the first major victory for freedom of conscience in recorded history.

The holiday commemorates the victory of the army of the Maccabees, led by Judah Maccabee and his brothers, over the Syrian army. After they recaptured the Temple, which had been looted and defiled by the Syrians, in Jerusalem, it was cleansed and rededicated to God.

According to legend, a cruse of oil which contained only enough fuel to light the menorah of the newly-recovered Temple for one night lasted, instead for eight days, until new oil had been prepared.

The Hebrew word "Chanukah" means "rededication," and the holiday also is known as the "Days of Rededication." During these days Jews throughout the world rededicate themselves to religious freedom. The holiday is celebrated with special services, prayers and music in synagogues, homes and religious schools.

Chanukah is one of the minor festivals of the Jewish people, which means it is a historical rather than a Biblical holiday.

Chanukah Play The Sunday school children of Moses Montefiore Synagogue will present a special Chanukah program at 2 p.m. Sunday in the synagogue. The four-act play will be directed by Mrs. Erwin A. Pearl. The first three acts will consist of singing of Chanukah and Israeli songs and hymns, and the fourth act will be on the meaning of Chanukah. Zion Temple will hold Chanukah services at 8 p.m. Friday at the home of Sumner Richman, 1525 Ravinia Place. The choir will perform Memorial services for the late President John F. Kennedy also will be conducted.

Moses Montefiore and Beth Israel congregations will not hold special synagogue services to observe Chanukah. The festival will be observed by families in the homes.

Stock Market Trading Mixed

Motors Strong and Airlines Weak in Small Fluctuations

BY ED MORSE

NEW YORK (AP) — Strength in some motors and weakness in several airlines featured a mixed stock market early this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

Changes of most key stocks went from fractions to about a point.

News that Studebaker Corp. is ending its money-losing car manufacturing in the United States and moving its operations to Canada brought heavy buying in Studebaker, which advanced about a point, making a big percentage gain for a low-priced stock.

The crash of a Pan American World Airways jet depressed most airline issues. Pan American, after sinking more than a point, halved the loss.

Selected strength in rails and utilities helped keep the over-all list on a fairly even keel.

Steels worked slightly lower in balance. Drugs and aerospace issues also were off a bit on balance.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .4 at 233.7 with industrials off 2, rails up .6 and utilities up .5.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .13 at 760.43.

Rail components of the averages were bolstered by advances of around a point by Chesapeake & Ohio and more than a point by Baltimore & Ohio. The Supreme Court affirmed a decision upholding acquisition by the C&O of control of B&O.

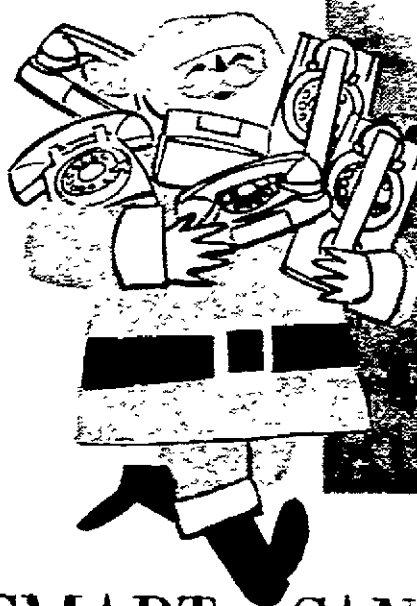

Radio Corp. was up about a point.

National Airlines, up a point or so, was an exception in the generally soft airlines group. Fractional losses were taken by American, United and Eastern.

Chrysler was up a point. General Motors and American Motors were up fractions.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds advanced. U.S. government bonds were mixed.

Set Pact Talks in Telephone Dispute

General, Union to Meet With Arbitrator at Madison Thursday

CHILTON — A federal arbitrator will hear arguments today in a contract dispute between General Telephone Company of Wisconsin and its AFL-CIO-affiliated employe union.

General owns and operates the exchange here.

John H. Behymer, a representative from the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, has called the communications union and management of the telephone company together to iron out difficulties. The contract expired in September.

A spokesman for General Telephone said the company has made offers in all four of the national demands in addition to offers in local demands. He said the union had turned down all offers made by the company.

The union maintains the company's pay scale is from 10 to 40 cents per hour below that of comparable industries. They are also asking the company to pay

Telephone service has not been interrupted during the arbitration period. Construction is proceeding on an addition to the local exchange.

Severe Storm Tapers Off, Heads East

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The season's most severe snowstorm which swept across North Central areas, dumping up to nearly a foot of snow in some sections, tapered off today as it moved slowly eastward.

Blizzard conditions were reported Sunday in some parts of the storm belt, which covered broad areas in the Dakotas, Minnesota, Michigan, Iowa and Nebraska.

At least five deaths were attributed to the storm.

Gusty winds swept the Prairies, causing much drifting of snow and creating hazardous driving conditions. Snow plows in some parts of the snow belt were unable to keep highways clear and maintenance crews halted work until the snow diminished.

Eight persons were injured near Little Falls, Minn., when a Greyhound bus carrying 21 passengers overturned after colliding with a car on a snowy highway.

Colder weather spread into the snow-covered region and temperatures were near zero in sections of North Dakota. Generally, readings were in the teens in most of the North Central region, with the 20s reported across most northern sections.

Six Fined for Violations of Game Laws

WAUPACA — Illegal deer and weapons, untaged venison, an uncased gun and hunting too close to a highway were game law violations processed by Municipal Justice George Whalen.

Harold E. Werth, 45, route 1, Bear Creek, pleaded guilty of killing a buck during a closed season and possession of untaged venison and was fined $50 on each count. Wardens said Werth registered the deer Nov. 26 at the Manawa checking station.

The operator of the station said the deer's spikes were too short, less than three inches long. Wardens said Werth was told to bring the deer to Waupaca and Werth said he was told to take it home.

Search by Wardens

Mrs. Werth allowed wardens to search their buildings and wardens found a tub of cut up venison with no tag on it. They also failed to find the head of the deer. Werth said the head was in a bag in the same room as the venison.

Gary Schmude, 1316 Eastman St., Oshkosh, forfeited a bond of $16.50 for hunting with a rifle in Waupaca County. Schmude told wardens he was hunting in Waushara County, which allows rifle hunting, when he wandered 1,200 feet into Waupaca County, which allows shotgun hunting only.

Robert F. Wierschke, 27, 602 Marcella St., Combined Locks, forfeited a bond of $31.50 for hunting within 200 feet of a highway Nov. 28.

Norman Hamblister, 30, route 2, Hortonville, forfeited a bond of $16.50 for hunting within 200 feet of the highway Nov. 28 in the Town of Caledonia.

William K. Sheets, 35, route 3, Waupaca, was fined $10 for having an uncased gun in his car Dec. 1 in the Town of Iola.

Interpretive Report (?)

'Outsiders' Catching Up To Appleton's Natives

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Appleton is under siege! The "invasion" which started more than 10 years ago is growing in intensity.

However, there is a major consolation — the invaders are friendly.

If you haven't guessed by now, we're referring to the weekend news that Appleton and Outagamie County still are experiencing population explosions.

In fact, more than half of Wisconsin's population live in eight of the state's 72 counties, according to a University of Wisconsin study.

It puts Outagamie County and Appleton among the "Big Eight."

The news may shake, rattle and roll a few of Appleton's aldermen who have been on the "outsider" bit in recent months.

Invasive Government

On the council floor they have made inferences that too many "outsiders" are getting involved in the operation of the city's municipal government and filling key positions.

Statistics — and you can have a lot of fun with them — would indicate the died-in-the-wool native Appletonian may be on the defensive at this point in the invasion.

So, let's take a look.

Between 1950 and 1960, according to the U.S. Census, Appleton's population increased 42 per cent, from 34,010 to 48,411.

During the past three years the trend has continued in Appleton and the Fox Cities as the area sprouts into a metropolitan region.

Birth Rate Down

The number of persons coming into Outagamie County to make their homes during the period 1960-63 has been 7,255, an increase of 7.1 per cent.

However, health department records show the birth rate is down 5 per cent this year, following the trend of the past two years.

The obvious is that the so-called outsiders are turning Appleton and the Fox Cities inside out.

Major plants and business concerns are expanding and in addition to hiring local and area people, they are attracting outside talent from far and near.

Whether the natives realize it or not, Appleton is in quite a transition. There's no use fighting it, folks.

For argumentative purposes, let's take some of the statistics and make assumptions which may hold up or leak like a bag of water.

Slam Advantage

For hypothetical purposes, taking the 42 per cent, representing Appleton's growth during the last decade, and adding to it the 7.2 population increase of the past three years, the percentage of "outsiders" comprising the city's population adds up to 49.1 per cent.

This would still give the natives an advantage of .9 per cent.

So, you natives had better be on guard because the next time you refer to an "outsider", he may be the guy standing next to you and your new boss.

This is all parcel and package of these changing times and the fact that this area happens to be the "Golden Boy" of the Fox River Valley.

At the rate things are going, the busy Welcome Wagon will have to be replaced by a jet.

"We don't have two U.S. 41 routes, we've got three," commented Public Works Director Robert W. Bues.

Saturday the Post-Crescent carried a news story listing a change in the location of the U.S. 41 business route approved by the Wisconsin Highway Commission.

Everyone knew there was the regular U.S. 41 which surrounds the city, but somehow City 41—Oneida Street—was forgotten about.

Bolivian Reds Are Holding 4 Americans as Hostages

Tin Miners Want Union Men Freed

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—Communist-led tin miners holding four Americans among 21 hostages today gave the government 24 hours to free two arrested communists or "suffer the consequences." The ultimatum raised fears for the hostages' safety.

The Federation of Mine Workers sent their word to the government by way of radio transmissions from their strongholds more than 150 miles south of this capital.

The miners, led by leftist Vice President Juan Lechin, defied a government troop buildup and an offer from President Johnson of full U.S. assistance to the government to win freedom for the hostages, held since Friday night.

Miners Broadcast

The miners' broadcast said union wanted the release of the two Communist union heads arrested by the government during the day Friday.

The leaders, Irineo Pimental and Federico Escobar, were arrested on a court order in connection with union agitation against a government crackdown on union power in the operation of the mines, Bolivia's main source of income.

The broadcast said the union was giving the government the ultimatum to resolve "the problem of the detained union leaders, and if it does not do so, it will have to suffer the consequences."

The broadcasts did not spell out what the consequences would be but sources here said they could mean a threat to the safety of the hostages. The miners originally promised the hostages would not be harmed.

Government Refuses

The government has said that under no circumstances would it set the two communists free. President Victor Paz Estenssoro scheduled a cabinet meeting, meanwhile, amid reports he will decree a state of siege.

One of the Americans, Thomas Martin, 27, of New York, a U.S. Information Agency officer, contacted the U.S. Embassy Sunday night by radio-telephone for the second time since Saturday and said that he and the other three Americans were well. He said they were being held under strong militia guard, but did not elaborate.

Cabinet Meeting

President Victor Paz Estenssoro called a Cabinet meeting today, and there were reports he might decree a state of siege. The crisis was heightened by anti-government agitation being stirred up by Vice President Juan Lechin, leftist head of the Tin Miners Union.

The hostages were seized Friday in the Catavi area, about 155 miles southwest of La Paz, by miners demanding the release of two Communist union leaders arrested by the government.

The government moved 1,000 troops into the region around Oruro, 30 miles north of Catavi, and said it would not give in to the miners' demand.

A White House statement Sunday night called the seizure of the Americans an indefensible act and said President Johnson's offer of assistance would include anything that might be required.

The statement said "the Pres-

Knew Plane Was Delayed

Airport Waiting Room Filled With Relatives, Friends and Loved Ones

BY JAMES V. LAMB

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—

They waited, tight-lipped, their faces taut with grief and fear.

They were relatives, friends, loved ones sitting quietly at the international airport waiting word on Pan American's Flight 214 from San Juan, P.R.

Rumors and reports continued to mount. All knew the plane was late, frightfully late. Still there was no official word from the airlines.

Gradually more newsmen arrived with later reports and they learned the worst — Flight 214 crashed near Elkton, Md., and all 80 aboard were killed.

Some clung to hope that their loved ones missed the plane or made a last-minute change in plans.

Wedding Presents

"Their wedding presents are still at my apartment," said Mrs. Linda Kolman of Philadelphia. She was speaking of her friends, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Scolnick of Philadelphia, who had gone to Puerto Rico on their honeymoon a week ago. "We were supposed to pick them up and take them to their new

The miners announced they would start a series of strikes today at the 25 mines run by the government.

Other Americans

Besides Martin, the other Americans are Michael A. Kristula of Cadillac, Mich., also a USIA information officer; Bernard Rifkin, 32, a native of Brooklyn, N.Y., labor adviser for the U.S. Agency for International Development; and Robert Gergerstrom, a Peace Corps volunteer whose parents live in Honolulu.

They were seized after they went into the Catavi area to deliver a $15,000 U.S. government aid check toward the building of a school for miners' children.

Held Captive

The other captives were three Canadians, a Dutchman, and other unidentified foreigners and Bolivians. All apparently were mining technicians.

Interior Minister Jose Antonio Arez said the government would use every means at its disposal to win the release of the hostages. But he said "under no circumstances and under no pressure" would the government free the two union leaders, Irineo Pimental and Federico Escobar.

Byrnes Warns Of Emotion in Legislation

All Bills Should Be Judged Solely On Merit, He Says

BY FRANCES McKEUSICK

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Congress should not let the emotionally charged atmosphere of Washington influence its consideration of far-reaching and important legislation, Rep. John W. Byrnes, R., Green Bay, warned today.

"We face the danger that legislation which will affect the future of the country and all its citizens may be acted either upon the basis of support once given to it by a departed president or the pleas of a new, sorely-beset president," he declared during an interview.

Cautioning that all bills should be judged solely on the basis of merit and should be thoroughly discussed in committee and on the House floor, Byrnes recalled that President Kennedy himself once said, "without debate, without criticism, no administration and no country can succeed and no republic survive."

"As we mourn the tragic death of Mr. Kennedy, we also understand the terrible burdens which have fallen on the shoulders of our new President," the congressman continued. "He needs our help in the extremely difficult period which lies ahead of him."

"But we still need the debate and criticism which John Kennedy himself recognized as essential to a republic," he said. "We will neither revere his memory, nor be of real help to our new president if we consider legislation on any other basis than on its merit and soundness."

Byrnes was on the opposite side in front of the house. Then I opened the door and saw flames all over and I opened the cellar door and told my wife to get ready to get the kids out. I waited a few minutes, went outside and checked the house to see if it was burning. There was fire all around. It was raining hard. I think that was the only thing that saved the house.

Steelers Get Shot at Title Next Sunday

Fake Punt Leads To 24-19 Win Over Cowboys

DALLAS (AP)—It was fourth down on the Pittsburgh 16-yard line with 14 yards to go for a first down and the clock showed about four minutes left.

Ed Brown, the Steelers' quarterback, faked a punt and then threw a 42-yard pass to Red Mack. It got a drive moving that brought Pittsburgh a 24-19 victory over the Dallas Cowboys and a shot at the Eastern Conference championship of the National Football League against New York next Sunday.

Coach Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys didn't think there was much cleverness involved. "That was unbelievable," said Landry. "Everyone knew what was coming. They had to run or throw. If he had punted they were through."

But obviously it was too clever for the Cowboys. Given a life, Pittsburgh moved to a touchdown, scored by Theron Sapp on a 24-yard dash through the Dallas line.

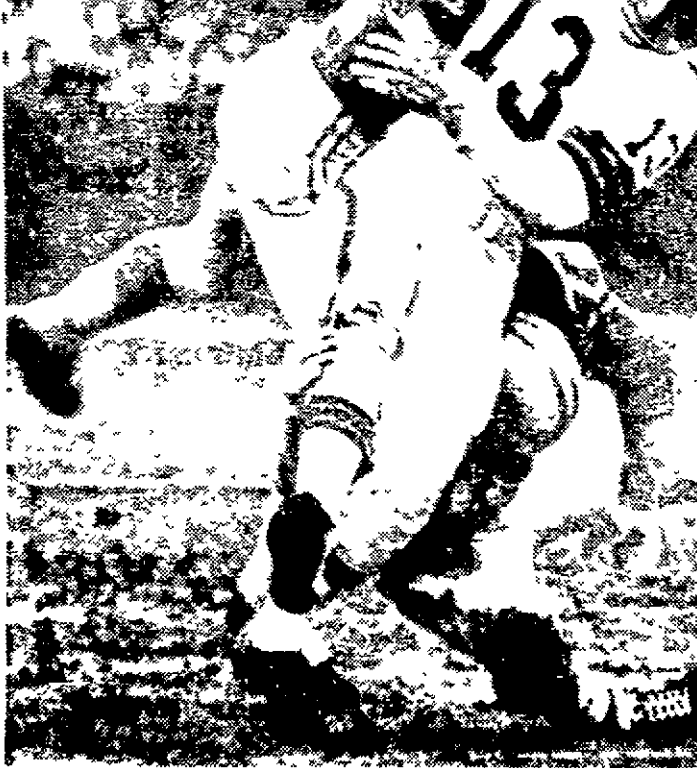

Pushed to Second
The Steelers, who had been in a tie for third place with St. Louis, found themselves pushed up to second, just back of New York. And now the Steelers can win the title if they beat the Giants.

Brown was the man who got the job done for Pittsburgh as he threw touchdown passes to Buddy Dial and Preston Carpenter, set up a Lou Michaels' field goal with a 48-yard fling to Dial and then pulled the fakery that delivered a victory with 1:53 left in the game.

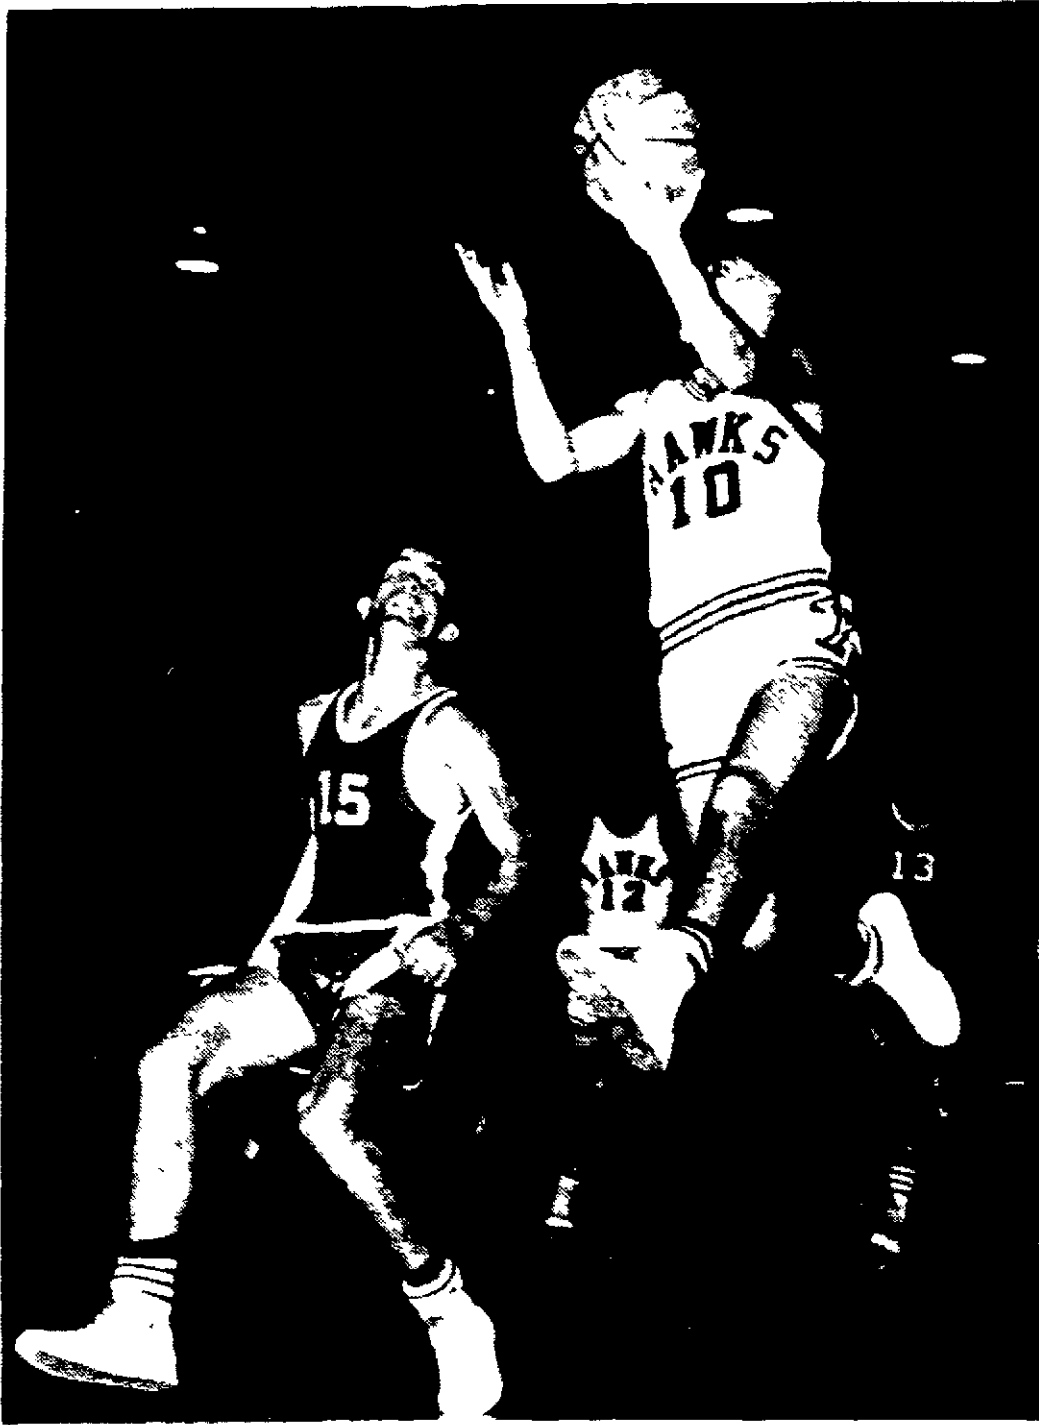

Dallas forced to a 19-17 lead in the third period as Don Meredith's passing set up touchdowns he scored himself with two and four-yard runs. Sam Baker kicked field goals of 53 and 46 yards.

Sapp revealed that the Steelers got the inspiration to win the game when they heard a report that Detroit had beaten Cleveland 38-10 to knock the Browns out of a tie with New York for first place—and out of championship contention.

Detroit Kills Cleveland Title Hopes, 38-10

BY BERNIE KENNEDY
DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Lions continued their mastery over Cleveland Sunday when they scored 24 points in the second half and posted a lopsided 38-10 National Football League victory over the Browns.

The victory, first for the Lions since Nov. 3, erased the Browns' title hopes. Cleveland had entered the game tied with New York for the Eastern Conference lead.

The triumph was the ninth for Detroit in 10 regular season games with Cleveland, including three title games and a playoff bowl meeting.

Detroit quarterback Earl Morrall passed to Terry Barr for a 75-yard scoring play the first time the Lions got the ball, and flipped a 29-yarder to Gail Coghill to start the second half surge.

Lewis Scores

Danny Lewis and Nick Pietrosante scored for the Lions on short runs and defensive end Darris McCord pounced on a Frank Ryan fumble in the end zone for the other Detroit touchdown.

Wayne Walker's 23-yard field goal and five extra points accounted for the other Detroit points.

All of the Browns' scoring was in the second quarter. Lou Groza's 19-yard field goal and Ryan passed to Gary Collins on a 49-yard play to cap a long drive.

The Lions held Jimmy Brown.

Bears Defeat 49ers; Detroit Last Hurdle

Packers Have 49ers On Their Minds—in More Ways Than One

Robinson Lauded For Performance Against Rams

BY ART DALEY

Post-Crescent News Service

PALO ALTO, Calif. — The Packers had the 49ers on their minds today . . . in more ways than one.

First off, of course, the Bears started preparing today for their 1963 league windup against the 49ers in San Francisco Saturday.

Second, this Green Bay camp wasn't exactly pleased with the effort the 49ers put forth in losing to the Bears, 27-7, in Chicago Sunday.

The Packers watched the entire show via television, and it was disturbing, to say the least.

Fight Back

The weather might have stunned the 49ers, but they appeared slow and sluggish.

The Bears looked like they were ripe for a loss. Bill Foster just shook his head. "It's a shame they weren't playing somebody better. They were ready to lose."

But enough of this cry-baby stuff—and, besides, the 49ers did fight back pretty well after going into such a 14-0 hole.

And there's always Detroit against the Bears next Sunday. A Lion victory Sunday combined with a Packer win would make the Packers Western Division champs.

"But we can't be thinking about the Lions," Coach Vince Lombardi said Sunday. "We've got the 49ers to worry about."

But the Packers won't be in such good shape for San Francisco.

"We'll probably have seven days or eight out Sunday," Moore Taylor said.

With a straight face, but added with a twinkle, "I may have to play myself. Wouldn't that be something?"

Re-Injures Knee

The Packers did take quite a few bumps and bruises. Moore, who hurt his knee in practice the other day, re-injured it and retired after the third quarter in favor of Elijah Pitts.

Taylor came up with a back injury but he'll probably be ready Sunday. The big fullback team on offense, played a whole of a game, but outstanding ball. In addition they were guilty of and picking up 113 yards. He has 959 yards and is just five due to linemen pulling out 41 short of his fourth straight 1,000-yard season.

Lombardi, following an inspection of films of the 31-14 victory over the Rams, said "It was one of our best games this year." He said he was pleased with the way the team charged back in the second half.

He complimented several players for good work and included Dave Robinson, the rookie who went the route at right linebacker. "In fact," Vince said "Robinson did very well."

The Rams didn't seem to be making a special point of aiming their offense at Robinson.

Bobcats Defeated By Steers, 4-3

GREEN BAY (AP)—The Green Bay Bobcats had their winning streak snapped at four Sunday when the St. Paul Steers edged the United States Hockey League leaders 4-3.

St. Paul streaked to a 4-2 lead after two periods and allowed Green Bay only one goal in the closing period.

Chicago '11' Manages 27-7 Win

BY JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP) — The do-it-yourself fad has turned into stark reality for the Chicago Bears in their pursuit of the Western Division title in the National Football League.

With only one game remaining, the Bears are faced with either tying or defeating Detroit next Sunday or possibly seeing a tremendous season-long effort wasted with a second-place finish.

There's also a possibility that San Francisco might defeat Green Bay next Saturday, assuring the Bears of the crown. But nobody is willing to bet that at least not after what the 49ers showed against the Bears Sunday.

The Bears still managed a 27-7 victory over San Francisco despite turning the ball over to the 49ers four times when two attempted field goals and two attempted punts were messed up because of poor passes from center.

51-Yard Run

A 51-yard run on their first play from scrimmage by Willie Galtore gave the Bears a lead they never yielded.

But the Bears, who seldom injury but he'll probably be ready Sunday. The big fullback team on offense, played a whole of a game, but outstanding ball. In addition they were guilty of and picking up 113 yards. He has 959 yards and is just five due to linemen pulling out 41 short of his fourth straight 1,000-yard season.

Against another team other than the 49ers, such a performance might have been fatal even though San Francisco is the only team which has defeated the Bears this season.

Against the resurging Detroit Lions next Sunday, the Bears will have to play better ball. It is possible they might have been looking ahead, but that is doubtful, since a victory over San Francisco was a must following Green Bay's 31-14 triumph over Los Angeles Saturday.

Halas Is Mum

So far as Detroit is concerned, owner-coach George Halas of the Bears is mum.

"Silence is golden as far as we're concerned this week," said Halas. "We'll be in good shape for Detroit. Some of our boys who were suffering this week proved they are fine in the San Francisco game."

As wobbly as the Bear offense was, the defense again was tremendous as the secondary intercepted four San Francisco passes. Richie Petitbon snared two. Dave Whissell one and Roosevelt

Johnson Fires 4 TD Passes in 38-14 Triumph

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Ken Bowman, center and co-captain on the 1963 Wisconsin football team, has been named to receive the Russell G. Winnie trophy at the Milwaukee Journal's football dinner Dec. 12. The trophy, honoring the late WTMJ sports announcer, is given annually to the Wisconsin senior with the highest scholastic average among major letter winners.

Bowman and teammate Billy Smith were picked Saturday to the Big Ten all-academic football team. The unit was selected by a panel of Midwest sports editors from a nomination list of 38 players posting B or better classroom averages.

Arizona State Quint Wins Over Wichita

BY TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Adolph Rupp hasn't exactly changed his mind about his University of Kentucky basketball team that has won its first three games impressively, but he's wavering.

When his Wildcats were ranked ninth in the pre-season Associated Press college basketball poll the cagey Baron of the Blue Grass said he thought they were over-rated.

The veteran coach, who has a remarkable 687-134 won-lost ca- Cotton Nash and Ted Deeken reer record said after his boys starred against Northwestern and Texas Tech: "We may get hurt on 56 points against the Big Ten of a so-called big man. These next games should be important guides to our future chances."

Rupp was referring to the games with Northwestern and North Carolina. His boys trounced Northwestern 95-63 Saturday night for their third straight victory. The North Carolina test comes tonight at Lexington, Ky.

Nash, Deeken Star
On the basis of their first three games Rupp shouldn't have many sleepless nights. Cotton Nash and Ted Deeken starred against Northwestern and Texas Tech. They combined for 56 points against the Big Ten club, Deeken with 29 and Nash 27.

Kentucky's turnaround from its so-so—for the Wildcats—16-9 record of last season has been the highlight so far of the new collegiate campaign. Chicago Loyola, No. 1, and NYU, No. 2, each have won twice, but the Bearcats on six free throws by Ramblers and the Violets were hardly extended by North Dakota and Kent State and Cornell and Tulsa, respectively.

Five Big 10 Teams Are Still Unbeaten

CHICAGO (AP)—Iowa and Purdue, two of five Big Ten teams who remain undefeated in preconference basketball competition, face dangerous opponents tonight.

The Big Ten has a healthy 21-5 record against outside foes but, has not had any luck with Southern teams. In fact, three of the defeats have been at the hands of teams from the South.

Diplomas Mean Dollars In Man's Work Lifetime

BY SYLVIA PORTER

If you're planning to be a plumber, you can count on earning an average of $209,000 during your working lifetime if you have a high school diploma but only $178,000 if you drop out after grade school—a difference of $31,000.

If you expect to be a plumber, you can count on average lifetime earnings of $252,000 if you graduate from high school but only $222,000 if you quit after elementary school—a differential of $30,000.

Among truck drivers too, the differential in average lifetime earnings for those with and without a high school diploma is marked—$212,000 against $189,000. The gap becomes even more dramatic among plasterers, mine workers, policemen, ranges up to $42,000 over the working age years of 18 to 64.

Diploma's Worth
What good is a high school diploma to an American who is not going on to college and who is heading for an occupation where the emphasis is on aptitude and know-how, not on formal education?

The blunt answer is that employers in virtually all trades today prefer high school graduates and are willing to pay for them—and this is what Dr. Herman P. Miller, Special Assistant to the Director of the U.S. Census Bureau, will say in the Bureau's Occupational Outlook Quarterly to be published this Friday.

That a college-educated man makes $170,000 more during his working lifetime than a high school graduate is an impressive fact but it's not surprising. Nor is it surprising that a doctor, highest paid of all professionals, makes $400,000 more than an accountant in a lifetime.

What is vitally important news is the mounting dollars-and-cents value of education to workers in just about every trade—ranging from bus driving to hair cutting, from fire fighting to pipefitting.

Better Opportunity
"Take a carpenter, for example," says Miller. "With a high school diploma, he has a better chance to get a regular job with a big and diversified construction firm. Then, rain or shine, he works every day. Unlike the less educated—and often also less trained—carpenter, he may be the last to be laid off in slack times."

"Or take the busdriver. With a high school diploma, he may be considered for a job by a nationwide carrier—without it, he may need a little luck to turn the wheels for any firm, often at lower pay."

Miller's up-to-date findings on the money value of education, based on the 1960 Census, are of extraordinary importance because, as he says, "There are still many in our society who have had little exposure to education, disadvantaged people who cannot see how education can help them or their children."

Yet the fact is that in the trades, high school graduates are preferred for apprentice training and this, in itself, increases the financial benefits of the diploma. The fact is that intensive, thorough training for skilled occupations easily can be worth more in the long run than picking up the skills on the job.

Pay Differences
The pay differentials go across the board.

High school-educated craftsmen and foremen can expect to earn an average $36,000 more in a lifetime than those without the diploma.

Service workers, including household help, can look forward to $34,000 more if they have their high school diploma. Semi-skilled operatives will have an average $24,000 extra with this education to help them.

Of course, a college degree is a must for most of the professions and even for the few professions which do not demand a college degree, the dollars-and-cents advantage for the professional man with the degree is enormous, can go up to $100,000 over a lifetime.

Here are the average lifetime earnings for men by years of school completed.

School Years Lifetime Earnings
Less than 8 yrs.	$143,000
8 yrs.	$184,000
1-3 yrs. high sch.	$212,000
4 yrs. high sch.	$247,000

Minding Your Business

By Cyrus Barrett, Jr.

MONEY EXCUSE CAN HIDE REAL REASONS FOR BUSINESS FAILURE

DEAR CY:

Almost every time I hear of a retailer failing in business, the reason given is "not enough working capital." As I am about to open my own store, I would like to hear what other pitfalls await the new retailer. Better yet, what makes those succeed who do?

STARTER RETAILER

DEAR STARTER:

Insufficient working capital is an all-inclusive excuse which often hides true reasons for failure. I know of an automobile dealer who is a sad sack businessman, but has unlimited funds at his disposal. He has existed for over two years despite his lack of shrewd automobile trading judgment, if he died a natural business death (without Fort Knox behind him), insufficient working capital would probably be stated as the reason he failed. Elizabeth Y. Deran, of the University of Illinois Bureau of Economic and Business Research, recently completed a survey of 400 independent retailers in 9 communities.

She concluded firms pursuing an aggressive merchandising policy, who consulted outside accountants, posted records daily, and lived according to operating ratios, survived better than their less fortunate fellow retailers. Most successful business owners checked had prior experience in related or similar lines. They added items to their stock at a greater than normal rate, and were systematic in discounting merchandise.

These firms advertised continuously and more aggressively, relating advertising to a percentage of their sales dollars. CY

DEAR CY:

You sure revealed the inside information on how telephone sales people work! I figured their sales talks were memorized. I never guessed so many actually read from printed sheets on the wall, switching from sales talk to answers to objections back to sales talk. What amazes me is material I read on the subject of selling by telephone never mentioned what you did.

PANDORA

DEAR PANDORA:

After reading publications on telephone sales techniques, I have concluded they obscure as much as they offer. Very few telephone prospects will buy without being asked directly for an order. Yet, this vital point is usually glossed over. So is the fact that any verbal mish-mash on the part of the telephone prospect (which might lead to a firm objection) should be courteously interrupted. A negative thought, allowed to fester in a telephone prospect's mind, is extremely difficult to eradicate via the phone. A telephone sales presentation can be likened to beautiful music. It must have beginning, structure, rhythm, and move with controlled artistry toward a desired termination point.

DEAR CY:

In a recent column, you suggested, as part-time work, representing a home study school. Would you please give me the names of schools who might be interested in having me call on people inquiring about their courses? I have done some selling.

MADGE W.

DEAR MADGE:

You have an opportunity to go to a source of information, rather than spray-mailing letters. Write the National Home Study Council at 2000 "K" Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. Ask which of their association members might be interested in the talents you have to offer. In case they can't come up with suggestions, you can always contact selected home study schools listed in their "Blue Book." Ask for it, too. CY

Let's EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By Sylvanus M. Duval, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Duval, Ph.D.

ARE THE PESSIMISTS RIGHT ABOUT THE YOUNGER GENERATION?

YES ☐ NO ☐

No, they usually are not. The pessimist looks only for the unfortunate aspects of youth today. At the other extreme, the optimist sees only the good qualities of modern youth. In between is the realist who recognizes the difficulties that set teen-agers and at the same time appreciates the ways they are attempting to work out their problems. The one most apt to be "right" is the one who studies the situation objectively.

"You think just like a woman!" is usually an unkind remark!

True— False— Good Reading is a Habit! Do

True. When a man accuses you often wish you could keep his wife of "thinking just like a up with all the best sellers?" Do "no" answer. ## OSC Guidance Major Okayed

College Regents Approve Program Of Graduate Study

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON—Expansion of the curriculum at Wisconsin State College-Oshkosh to provide a major course of graduate study in vocational guidance has been authorized by the board of regents of state colleges, subject to the approval of the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education.

The college administration told the board there is a strong demand for guidance specialists from the schools of east-central Wisconsin.

The graduate major would consist of 30 semester hours, of which 15 credits would be required in courses open only to graduate students.

The college said such a graduate course would lead in the future to the addition of other graduate programs for school psychologists and in special education.

Ashland Man Hurt in Crash

30 Stitches Used At Hospital to Close Head Wound

Ervin L. Harnois, 31, Ashland, was injured about 7:04 a.m. Saturday in a two-car collision at E. South River and John Streets. He was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital where more than 30 stitches were required to close a laceration on the top of his head.

Harnois, driving west on John Street, collided with an east-bound car driven by Henri Lemieux, 42, 311 S. Walter St. Lemieux sustained lacerations to his left knee and right hip and was also treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Thomas J. Berholtz, 19, 518 North State St., drove off the roadway and smashed through a steel fence at S. Greenview and E. Calumet Streets.

Car Struck Fence
Police said Berholtz was driving north on S. Greenview. He lost control of his car which struck the fence and went 36 feet into the Reid Municipal golf course.

He was not injured and damage to the vehicle was minor, police said.

Urban F. DeBruin, 40, 239 Darboy Road, John M. Wirth, 29, 606 S. Weimer St., and Miss Rita A. Long, 23, Route 1, Appleton, are the owners of cars damaged about 8:40 p.m. Friday on W. Washington St. between Appleton and Superior Streets.

DeBruin and Wirth were both headed west on Washington Street. They sideswiped and ran into the parked car owned by Miss Long.

AHS Art League Tea Will Show Yule Decoration

Christmas decorations will deck the Early American Room at Appleton High School for the Art Students' League annual Christmas tea at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. All AHS students and their parents are invited.

Decorating the room will be varied Christmas arrangements, for tables and walls using greens, candles, pine cones, netting and sequins. All items were created and made by members of the club. Original Christmas cards also will be displayed.

During the reception, the film "Art—What Is It? Why Is It?" will be shown and refreshments will be served. Kathleen Gostas is in charge of the arrangements. Club advisors are Harold Carlso and Peter Giovannini.

As another observance of the holiday season, Art League students gave original Christmas cards to 85 patients at the Winnebago State Hospital. Each patient received three cards, complete with envelopes and stamps, that can be sent as his holiday greetings to family and friends.

Each of the cards was hand-made and original in design. Julie Bassett, club president, presented the cards.

Stolen Car Found

An auto owned by Ray Vandenberg, 612 E. South River St., and reported stolen early Saturday morning from the Pure Oil Co. lot at Lawe and E. South River streets, was recovered by Appleton police about 1:30 p.m. abandoned in the 2300 block of N. Morrison. A transistor radio and six rolls of pennies were reported missing from the car.

General Dynamics Specialist to Give Talk

A General Dynamic Corp. quality control specialist will speak to the Winnebago section of the American Society for Quality Control at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at Alex's Manor House.

Dell B. Tallon, Dallas, Tex., will discuss "Quality Control, a Production Necessity." Gary Schmitt, Menasha, is handling reservations. The meeting is open to non-members.

This is 17-year-old skating prodigy Sandy Wirwille, who has trained since she was 9 for a professional skating career. That was when she saw her first Holiday on Ice show. Now she is a star of the troupe, doing two solo numbers in this season's program. Holiday on Ice opens Friday night at the Veterans Memorial Arena at Green Bay and plays through Sunday with three night performances and two matinees.

Holiday Skater Known As Cinderella Star

Sandy Wirwille, 17, to Perform 2 Solo Roles in Weekend Show at Bay Arena

They call her the 'Cinderella of the Ice Shows.' Her name is Sandy Wirwille. She is just 17 years old. She's a star in Holiday On Ice: she's understudy to other top-flight performers in the show — ready, willing and able to carry on for another who might become incapacitated by illness or injury. In this season's edition of Holiday on Ice at the Brown County Veterans Memorial Arena Friday through Sunday, the talented Sandy will perform solo numbers in "Showtime on Broadway" and "The Melodies of Victor Herbert."

Generally speaking, ice show stars come from the ranks of amateur and professional champions, young men and young women who have won titles, trophies and medals in regional, national and international competition. Holiday is loaded with Kay such stars, for example, Hanna Eigel, Alice Quessy, Vivi-Anne Hulten, Mary Stuart, Ray Balm and Tommy Allen.

But Sandy came to stardom via the Cinderella route. She owns no titles, no trophies, no medals. She never skated in bit parts or in the chorus. She by-

Then she learned that Kay Servatius, after touring the United States for several years and Europe and Africa for several more years with Holiday, had decided to stay in one place, for more than a week or two and to do that had become the skating professional at a Detroit rink.

Contract as Star Sandy and Kay met again, this time as student and trainer. Kay brought her to the attention of Ruth Tyson, executive producer of the show. Sandy wound up with a star's contract. In its three-day stand at Green Bay, Holiday will play five shows. Evening performances will be at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday, and at 7:30 p.m. Sunday. There will be two 2:30 p.m. matinees, one on Saturday and another Sunday.

Takes $673 Worth of Food in 10 Minutes

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Mrs. Sonja McNeill of Reno found herself in a supermarket contest—one going to the woman who scoops up the highest-priced total of groceries in 10 minutes. Sonja took two tips from her husband, who's a hunter. She counted her quarry. Her husband reminded her, too, that wild rice goes well with game—and, boy, it is expensive. She concentrated on meats as the race started—61 hams, filet mignon and Canadian bacon—and all the wild rice in the store. Result: In the 10 minutes she gathered $673 of groceries and won the prize.

Series Probes Funny Men Of Film

BY TV SCOUT

8:30-9 (Channel 4-5) — "The Funny Men," a two-part beginning on Hollywood and the Stars, is much better than the usual run-of-the-celluloid offering, since it stays pretty much in the past when things were interesting. The opening montage is wild and funny. And there are a lot of Keystone Kops.

6:30-7:30 (Channel 11) — The mad—or nearly—mad—scientist rides again on The Outer Limits. Kent Smith is this chap who runs some kind of an energy lab.

6:30-8:30 (Channel 4-5) — John Wayne is stalwart and true as ever, and Maureen O'Hara is again his ever-loving wife when Monday Night at the Movies shows "The Wings of the Eagles," a 1937 film. (Color).

7:30-8 (Channel 2) — Lucille Ball's fans will have a fine time watching The Lucy Show as Lucy bravely sends her little son off to a military academy with his "Goodbye, Mom, sir," ringing her ears.

7:30-9 (Channel 11) — Except for mother Jeanette Nolan, who is busy with The Richard Boone Show, John McIntire's entire family joins the Wagon Train. (Color)

8:30-9 (Channel 2) — The city bumpkins are among the country slickers again on The Danny Thomas Show as Danny and Sid Melton run afoul of a carpenter working on their country home.

8:30-9 (Channel 2) — The problems of getting shy Gomer (Jim Nabors) and shy Mary Grace (Mary Grace Canfield) to a dance occupy a pleasant outing on The Andy Griffith Show.

9-10 (Channel 11) — Rip Torn has an acting field day on Breaking Point, as a hospital orderly whose efforts to help a catatonic (Susan Harrison) lead to a tender love affair. But Torn also has a problem.

9-10 (Channel 2) — While Paul Richards is helping Rip Torn, he could also be of use to Simon

State Calendar to Feature Post-Crescent Photographer's Work

For the 10th year out of about 11 the State Historical Society of Wisconsin has been publishing its state calendar, it contains photographs by Andrew J. Mueller, 1702 N. Clark St., Appleton. The 1964 edition has four of his pictures.

Mueller heads the photo department of the Appleton Post-Crescent and has his own "pet" equipment for taking the artistic shots which are used from time to time in the newspaper. Besides the historical society's calendar, a state magazine—Wisconsin Tales & Trails, published in Madison — regularly uses photographic work produced by Mueller. The Fall, 1963, issue for example used two color pictures of his for the cover and center spread reproductions. The same issue also contains several black and white photographs taken by Mueller.

Set Pact Talks in Telephone Dispute

General, Union to Meet With Arbitrator at Madison Thursday

CHILTON — A federal arbitrator will hear arguments Thursday in Madison in a contract dispute between General Telephone Company of Wisconsin and its AFL-CIO-affiliated employee union.

General owns and operates the exchange here.

John H. Behrmer, a representative from the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, has called the communications union and management of the telephone company together to iron out difficulties. The contract expired in September.

Demands of the Union are placed in two categories, local and national. National demands are those of the communications union as a whole. Local demands are those of the local union.

National Demands Included in national demands of the communications union in the local dispute are wages, health insurance, pensions and vacations.

A spokesman for General Telephone said the company has made offers in all four of the national demands in addition to offers in local demands. He said the union had turned down all offers made by the company.

The union maintains the company's pay scale is from 10 to 40 cents per hour below that of comparable industries. They are also asking the company to pay 25 per cent of health insurance costs.

989 Employees There are 989 employees of General Telephone's 196 exchange throughout the state involved in the dispute. The local exchange includes Chilton, Brillion, Kiel, Hilbert, New Holstein and Sherwood.

Other exchanges in the surrounding area are Plymouth, Seymour, Black Creek, Nichols and Shiocton.

The union maintains more than 9,000 communications workers in the state have already received the benefits asked for in this dispute.

Met Often The general spokesman said they have met often with the union and each time the company's offers were turned down.

A statement by the union said the company refuses to bargain until the union gives up its demand. The union has already come down to a reasonable rock-bottom demand, according to the statement.

Telephone service has not been interrupted during the arbitration period. Construction is proceeding on an addition to the local exchange.

Added Facilities Room for large group lectures and meetings will be provided in the new school, as well as more guidance facilities. There will be facilities for teaching slower readers. A fine arts program and a language laboratory will be added. With the new building will come opportunities for the introduction of new teaching ideas.

Dosch said to his knowledge there is no organized opposition to the referendum.

Construction costs will result in a 4 mill increase in the tax rate if the referendum is passed.

The school district involves a 125 square mile area including the city of New Holstein, parts of the townships of Brothertown, Charlestown and New Holstein in Calumet County; Calumet, Marshfield, Taycheedah townships and the villages of Mt. # $273,600 Austin Straubel Airport Project Approved

Federal, State Money Committed For Taxiway, Apron Expansion

BY JAMES BARTELT Press-Gazette Staff Writer

A $273,600 taxiway and apron expansion project at Austin Straubel Field was approved Friday by the state aeronautics commission.

The project was the only portion of a Brown County proposal of $1.2 million for 1964 approved last summer by the Federal Aviation Agency. This fact Friday served as a point upon which the commission decided its entire procedure in acting as the middle agency between local government and the FAA might be changed.

At the insistence of Donald Olson, commission chairman, a resolution was ordered written for the January meeting saving the state body would declare its endorsement or rejection of airport projects before they are submitted to the FAA. The commission now merely certifies the project for which the FAA has provided funds.

The Green Bay project Friday received $30,000 of state money, subject to approval by the governor. The FAA has provided $136,900 as a half-share, and Brown County will have to provide $106,800.

The project calls for paved taxiways to both ends of the 4,200-foot north-south runway and added apron paving for aircraft parking and loading areas near the terminal.

The FAA ruling last summer rejected the extension of the northeast-southwest instrument landing runway from 5,260 to 7,000 feet, a length which would enable use by smaller commercial jets, and the widening of all taxiways from 50 to 75 feet. The federal share of the runway extension would have been $181,250.

The county board airport committee gave top priority to the runway extension, but the FAA said the taxiway project could not be traded for it. Since then, the county has filed a petition for reconsideration.

The separate status for the two parts of the proposal resulted last month in state commission delay on the taxiway funds because it was told there was a difference of opinion within the county.

Friday, the airport committee attended the commission session to explain it wanted to proceed with the taxiway project and also hoped to get state support in the petition for reconsideration of the runway extension.

The commission Friday also endorsed a $72,000 project to build 2,900 feet of taxiways to the east-west runway at the Fond du Lac airport. The FAA will provide $36,000, and the state and the county will pay $18,000 each.

Fees paid to the sheriff's department totaled $45. Forfeitures and officer fees paid to Waupaca totaled $293 and forfeitures and fees paid to Weyauwega totaled $117.

Severe Storm Tapers Off, Heads East

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The season's most severe snowstorm which swept across North Central areas, dumping up to nearly a foot of snow in some sections, tapered off today as it moved slowly eastward.

Blizzard conditions were reported Sunday in some parts of the storm belt, which covered broad areas in the Dakotas, Minnesota and parts of Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa and Nebraska.

At least five deaths were attributed to the storm.

Gusty winds swept the prairie lands, causing much drifting of snow and creating hazardous driving conditions. Snow plows in some parts of the snow belt were unable to keep highways clear and maintenance crews halted work until the snow diminished.

Eight Hurt

Eight persons were injured near Little Falls, Minn., when a Greyhound bus carrying 21 passengers overturned after colliding with a car on a snowy highway.

Colder weather spread into the snow-covered region and temperatures were near zero in sections of North Dakota. Generally, readings were in the teens in most of the North Central region, with the 20s reported across most northern sections.

In the East, rain fell from eastern Virginia northward through New York State and southern New England. In the West, rain splashed areas from central California northward, with rain and snow from the Pacific Northwest into the Northern Rockies. Heavy snow was indicated in parts of the Plateau region and the Rockies.

At the meeting of the Downtown Kiwanis Club Wednesday, Mrs. Chandler Rowe of the League of Women Voters spoke to the Noon Optimist Club today.

Interpretive Report (?)

'Outsiders' Catching Up To Appleton's Natives

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Appleton is under siege! The "invasion" which started more than 10 years ago is growing in intensity.

However, there is a major consolation — the invaders are friendly.

If you haven't guessed by now, we're referring to the weekend news that Appleton and Outagamie County still are experiencing population explosions.

In fact, more than half of Wisconsin's population live in eight of the state's 72 counties, according to a University of Wisconsin study.

It puts Outagamie County and Appleton among the "Big Eight."

The news may shake, rattle and roll a few of Appleton's aldermen who have been on the "outsider" bit in recent months.

Invade Government

On the council floor they have made inferences that too many "outsiders" are getting involved in the operation of the city's municipal government and filling key positions.

Statistics — and you can have a lot of fun with them — would indicate the died-in-the-wool native Appletonian may be on the defensive at this point in the invasion.

So, let's take a look.

Between 1950 and 1960, according to the U.S. Census, Appleton's population increased 42 per cent, from 34,010 to 48,411.

During the past three years the trend has continued in Appleton and the Fox Cities as the area sprouts into a metropolitan region.

Birth Rate Down

The number of persons coming into Outagamie County to make their homes during the period 1960-63 has been 7,253, an increase of 7.1 per cent.

However, health department records show the birth rate is down 5 per cent this year, following the trend of the past two years.

The obvious is that the so-called outsiders are turning Appleton and the Fox Cities inside out.

Major plants and business concerns are expanding and in addition to hiring local and area people, they are attracting outside talent from far and near.

Whether the natives realize it or not, Appleton is in quite a transition. There's no use fighting it, folks.

For argumentative purposes, let's take some of the statistics and make assumptions which may hold up or leak like a bag of water.

Slim Advantage

For hypothetical purposes, taking the 42 per cent, representing Appleton's growth during the last decade, and adding to it the 7.2 population increase of the past three years, the percentage of "outsiders" comprising the city's population adds up to 49.1 per cent.

This would still give the natives an advantage of .9 per cent.

So, you natives had better be on guard because the next time you refer to an "outsider," he may be the guy standing next to you and your nose boss.

This is all parcel and package of these changing times and the fact that this area happens to be the "Golden Boy" of the Fox River Valley.

At the rate things are going, the busy Welcome Wagon will have to be replaced by a jet.

Sen. Humphrey Friends Likely to Oppose Kennedy Vice Presidency

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON — Influential Wisconsin Democratic friends of Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota will probably challenge the desires of other Wisconsin Democrats who believe that Attorney General Robert Kennedy would be the best nominee for vice president on the 1964 party ticket with President Lyndon Johnson.

Humphrey's alliances in important sections of the Wisconsin party are strong, as he showed when he contested with the late John F. Kennedy in the presidential primary here in 1960 and made a respectable showing. The divergence of views about the vice presidential selection probably won't become a public competition, because the selection of a running-mate is generally acknowledged to be the prerogative of the presidential nominee, who will almost surely be Mr. Johnson. But it will probably show up in the advice the president gets from Wisconsin before the nominating convention at Atlantic City next August.

One of the chief arguments of the petroleum industry against the higher motor fuel tax asked by Gov. Reynolds to finance his proposed highway bonding program is the competitive disadvantage that would result for petroleum dealers in Wisconsin communities bordering other states. A rise of the Wisconsin levy from six to seven cents would mean a two-cent differential between Wisconsin and Illinois motor fuel prices, and a one-cent difference between the tax level of all other adjacent states, the legislature is being told.

Before Gaylord Nelson was inaugurated governor in 1959 he had tentatively worked out a similar crash highway construction program tied to borrowed money.

But after his election, his energy was detoured in other directions — the resolution of the general tax problem, the jockeying of appropriations through a skeptical Republican legislature, and a little later, his big outdoors recreation land buying program. Because he had never actually announced his plans, Nelson was not required to explain why he had dropped them.

Bond Controversy

Some leading state officials are privately disturbed about the pending legislative proposal to authorize state purchase of up to $5,000,000 in the bonds of Menominee Enterprises, Inc.

The question is: how much are the bonds really worth? There is a tendency to regard the purchase as a subsidy to the hard-pressed Indian community, rather than as a realistic investment.

Moreover, there is some concern about the fact that the enabling legislation would take state funds out of the general treasury, rather than from state and local employee pension trust funds, as originally thought. The employee representative, skeptical about the value of the debentures, arranged the substitute plan. Now the question arises: can the state treasury spare that much money, given the uncertainly estimated state income situation?

Some students of legislative affairs sometimes wonder about the persistently persuasive work of the Wisconsin County Boards Association.

The reasons are many, but among those not often noted is the fact that the Association chooses its presidents carefully and with an eye to their incidental political rank. The typical head of the association is not only a solidly established chairman of a county board at home, but a member of the legislature and of the legislative majority party. Besides, the current chairman is Franklin Jankle, the Green Lake and Waushara county assemblyman, and a man of some influence in the caucuses of the Republican majority party in the legislature.

The outlook is for a wind-up of the protracted John Doe investigation in Milwaukee county in about six weeks, with the filing of the final indictments.

Louis Hanson Stature

One of the incidental results of the inauguration of a new national administration may be a change in the stature of Louis Hanson, head of the Democratic state committee for the last six months. The choice of all factions of the state party for the chairmanship when Lucey quit. But the new administration is likely to work with the commanders of party organizations in the states, which will make Hanson a more influential man in Wisconsin terms.

Meanwhile, if David Rabinovitz of Sheboygan is ultimately ly denied the federal district judgeship for western Wisconsin to which he was appointed by the late president and for which he has not yet been confirmed, as some Washington observers appear to believe is likely, Lucey's plan to succeed to the Wisconsin Democratic national committee seat may also be denied.

Rabinovitz has carefully withheld his resignation from the national committee, pending U. S. senate action on his judicial nomination, which very likely means that he wants to retain the party of office if he cannot become judge.

There is talk among knowedgeable politicians at the capitol about yet another upward revision of the estimates on state tax collections, which would put the state treasury in a safer position during the next year.

If such speculation is proved by events, it may also add to pressure in the legislature when it convenes next spring for elimination of some of the new taxes adopted early this year, including the sales tax on household electricity bills.

Appointments

Although Martin Hanson of Mellen has not yet been seated as a member of the state conservation commission, more than two years after his original selection by a governor, he is getting more public attention in a commission contest than some of the incumbent commissioners.

Hanson has now had three separate appointments, one from former Gov. Nelson, one from Gov. Reynolds. But the state senate has refused to con-

MIDLAND CITY, Ala. (AP)—Mass funeral rites were scheduled today for 11 members of a family killed in a freight train crash Saturday.

Only one occupant of an old station wagon which pulled in front of a freight train survived in January, on the law-suit — 1-year-old Margaret Ann brought by Reynolds to clarify Langford.

The victims were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Langford, two sons and a daughter, six grandchildren and two daughters-in-law.

Witnesses said the station wagon apparently stalled on the tracks and was struck broadside by an Atlantic Coast Line freight train.

Safety Expert Asks Top Car Equipment Care

Winter Weather
Maintenance Can Reduce Accidents

Good visibility and skid control are two major concerns for reducing winter-weather accidents, according to research findings.

Neglect of equipment by motorists results in many otherwise avoidable accidents, the committee on winter driving hazards for the National Safety Council Traffic Conference indicates. Prof. A. H. Easton, committee chairman and director of the Motor Vehicle Research Laboratory, University of Wisconsin, has summarized findings of the group composed of automotive engineers from Detroit, test drivers, government officials and university researchers.

Safety Suggestions
Here are some of Easton's suggestions for safe operation in snow, ice, freezing weather and fog:

"Drivers must be able to see and be seen. Early hours of darkness make it imperative that lighting systems are perfect, with both upper and lower beams properly aimed.

"Keeping lights clean is often overlooked by motorists. Keep a cloth handy to wipe off road grime, and a brush to remove snow."

Wiper Blades

"Drivers neglect their wiper blades and when they hit snow or rain they drive almost blind. It is foolish to put lives and a vehicle costing several thousand dollars in jeopardy by neglecting maintenance of wiper arms and blades. Wiper blade rubber must be checked frequently because summer sun bakes the rubber and causes it to harden, the educator explained.

"In severe conditions reinforced tire chains are needed. Snow tires give you half again as much pulling power in snow as regular tires, but when conditions are bad, chains give up to five times as much traction."

He warned motorists to be on guard when the temperature is just above freezing. "Wet ice at 30 degrees is twice as slippery as ice at zero temperature. The polishing by heavy traffic also makes ice more slippery."

AHS Biology Classes Make Guided Tour Of Paper Institute

During the tour, the students were shown the Institute's comprehensive libraries of collected data and experiments in various scientific fields. They were given simplified explanations of a centrifuge, the electron microscope, and the genetics of trees. They were shown a film in conjunction with the genetics discussion.

The Incumbent Syndrome

A professional acquaintance who was recently invited to address the League of Wisconsin Municipalities convention employed a theme that will strike a responsive note among most other commentators on public affairs.

Mr. Perry C. Hill, a Milwaukee editorial writer, entitled his speech "The Incumbent Syndrome," as he discussed the habits of mind that so often make public officials, of high rank and humble, resent any outside suggestions that their own performances or pattern of policy may be susceptible to change or improvement for the public good.

Mr. Hill, with appropriate modesty, acknowledged that he is the inventor of the term which is otherwise associated with medical and psychiatric diagnosis.

"The incumbent syndrome is the tendency of a public officialholder—particularly one who has been in office for a while—to feel that any suggestion for change and improvement is a personal reflection on him. As part of the status quo he feels responsible for it, and his instinct is to defend it. He is afraid that a receptive attitude toward change will look like an admission that he had goofed," he explained.

Up to Date Report on the Communist Split

The World Peace Council — certainly one of the most misleadingly titled conferences in history—recently completed in Warsaw, gave evidence that neither the Russians nor the Chinese are working very hard at mending the rift between them. At present the news continues to be encouraging for the West.

There had been some suggestion that efforts were being made to mediate the ideological differences to enable the Communist faction to present a united front to the rest of the world. For several weeks no officials of either side did much verbal sniping.

But at Warsaw the Chinese broke out once more in angry denunciations of deviationists in control of the Soviet Union. Apparently the speeches were primarily aimed at trying to win support among other Red countries for a stronger and more energetic anti-Western coalition and a condemnation of a policy of coexistence. But only the Albanian delegates did any applauding. And when Chinese speakers made vicious attacks upon the character of the late President Kennedy, other delegates, especially the Polish, booed and hissed.

The ideological split presents some dangers to the world. It may be that the Chinese, hungry and increasingly desperate at home, will mount an active military offensive to try to force other Communist nations to choose sides.

But the cutting off of military aid from Russia may have the result of slowing down Chinese aggression simply because it might not take a major power or nuclear weapons to defeat them.

The military forces of the Nationalist Chinese on Taiwan and those of South Korea continue to increase in strength. In recent elections, Korea not only elected a military man as president; it gave his party control of the Assembly which should help in maintaining stability if not our type of democracy. The United States plans to send a Polaris-equipped nuclear submarine to the Pacific area by the end of 1964. Meanwhile, intercontinental ballistic missiles are reported now capable of reaching mainland China.

Red China is most likely now to con-

Judge Plays With Fire

There is a judge out in New York who is playing with fire.

State Supreme Court Justice Irving Saypol is considerably concerned with maintaining decorum and the proper atmosphere in his courtroom. One thing he apparently feels contributes to this is "proper attire" for the lawyers pleading their cases. But his opinion of what is "proper attire" is blowing up a storm.

Lawyers report the judge has said that bow ties are out. It doesn't matter that United States Supreme Court Justices Thomas Clark and Byron White wear bow ties with their judicial robes while presiding in Washington. It doesn't matter whether some lawyers prefer bow ties or don't own four-in-hands. "Everyone owns

Looking Backward

Soldiers Home for Christmas

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Motor for Dec. 17, 1883.

Our friend John F. Johnston, 21st Regiment, is home. He is looking remarkably well.

We also have just received a very pleasant call from our esteemed friend Rev. O. P. Clinton of Menasha, Chaplain of the 21st Wisconsin Volunteers, from whom we have received so many interesting letters from the Army of Cumberland. He is home on leave of absence and is in excellent health.

Capt. H. Turner, Acting Major of the 21st, and in robust health, has been with the Regiment from the first and shared all its hardships and helped contribute to the victories it has gained. If he is not awarded with permanent promotion, our faith in the saying "worth is sure to meet its reward" will be somewhat shaken. He also is home on leave.

Lt. Curtis Mower, of Company K, 4th Wisconsin Cavalry, a student at Lawrence University formerly, made us a pleasant visit. He has been in the army two years and recently has been promoted to the position he now holds, which, we doubt not, he richly deserves. Like all who return from the army on leave, he has no affection for the Copperheads. He reports the Rebellion in the Department of the Gulf is well nigh whipped out.

25 YEARS AGO
Monday, Dec. 5, 1938.

Appleton's million-dollar high school was visited by more than 10,000 persons from the area at the Sunday open house.

Members of Tuxis Club, high school group of Memorial Presbyterian Church, Appleton, conducted the entire Youth Day service the previous Sunday. Taking part were Douglas Fox, Robert Berg, Elizabeth Wood, Robert Bohn, Ben Rohan Jr., Jean Hoelzer, Margaret Ogilvie, Mary Van Oven, Muriel Harrison, Robert Pelton, Bernice Van O'Brien, Edwarda Abel, and Lavonne Reese.

Newly elected officers of the Appleton Building Trades

Mr. Hill's analysis is as original as it is useful.

The incidence of this pattern of symptoms is everywhere around us, in the obduracy of the arguments about where to locate an airport, in the instinctive clamor of county board members against any slightest hint in the state legislature that the county board that was adequate in 1873 may need some improvements today, in the organization of our public services on virtually every level. Political parties and other institutions often illustrate the thesis also.

We may remark with Mr. Hill that the editorial writer is not necessarily, or even probably, the repository of all wisdom or even a substantial part of it. But it is his function to interpret the march of events in politics and government, and to illuminate them when he can. When he tries, however ineptly, he is not indulging in personal spite or indicting individual competence or good faith. Indeed, it is perhaps a sign that the "incumbent syndrome" is not yet dominant in Wisconsin governmental affairs that Mr. Hill was invited to make his candid speech to a convention of local government officials represented by the League.

centrate its efforts at spreading the word in Southeast Asia particularly in what used to be French Indochina. Cambodia has recently given up United States aid and made friendly overtures to the Red Chinese. It has invited Viet Nam to join in signing a neutrality pledge. Laos is always on the verge of internal chaos with no one knowing which side anyone is on. And Viet Nam's new government is under strong pressure from stepped up attacks by the Red Viet Cong and suggestions that it try to gain reunification with the Communist north. China may not send any troops but we may be sure it will continue and even increase its efforts to subvert and infiltrate.

According to reports, the Chinese air force and navy are rapidly becoming obsolete with no new weapons coming from Russia. China is thought to have about 2,000 jet fighters, 300 medium jet bombers and 200 piston engine bombers, all Soviet built. Apparently China is getting parts for the planes. But the Chinese submarine fleet, considered to be about 24, is so seldom detected anywhere that there are doubts that many of the subs are operational.

Of course the reports cannot be accepted at face value. The cutting off of Russian aid—if it really is cut off—may result in hardship at present for the Chinese but in the long run will contribute to their ability to become militarily self-sufficient. The reports we have had of starvation conditions are often in conflict with other reports. We dare not underestimate their strength or capabilities.

There may, however, be another more hopeful aspect to the breach within the Communist party. If it is a real one, both sides will be trying to prove to the world that their own policies are successful in improving the lot of Communist peoples. This could possibly improve the chances for the gradual evolution of communism toward a freer society, an evolution which we believe already has taken place to some extent within the Soviet Union.

But the dangers are still tremendous. And there is no end in sight for the precarious tightrope policies that we must follow.

a regular tie," he told an offender and added that he should stop being "impertinent." The court clerk now keeps a black four-in-hand spare in a drawer for lawyers who forget.

But it is with the lady lawyers that Judge Saypol has—and will continue to have—the most trouble. He doesn't like big hats on women in court. And he has the unfortunate habit of criticizing female lawyers in court and calling their hats "grotesque."

Men may bow to conformity in dress—a glance at them indicates that they almost always do in any case. But women buy hats as a psychological necessity. And a judge most of all ought to know that no one but another woman can criticize a lady's hat.

People of Fox Cities Could Erect Real Memorial to Kennedy

Editor, Post-Crescent:

In a recent letter to the editor, Dan Cole suggested that a fitting memorial to President Kennedy would be the passage of the Civil Rights legislation now before the Congress in which the President believed so strongly. I heartily concur with this suggestion.

The nagging question that keeps coming to mind, however, is: Can't we do more than this? Isn't the problem of racial equality for all more urgent than ever before? Isn't it time for every individual to determine what he or she may do to put an end to the kind of hatred which brought about his untimely and tragic death? And if we find in our hearts and minds that something must be done and done now—now, before there is any more bloodshed and heartache in our land—what is the best solution; what is the right action?

The people in Boston are thinking of erecting a statue: streets in cities and towns all over the world, sports stadia, museums and other buildings are being named or renamed for the President; memorial scholarships are being established and people mourn and express their grief in many ways. I have a suggestion to add to Mr. Cole's which merits its consideration from the residents of Appleton and from our neighbors in the surrounding communities as well. Our Memorial would not be as tangible as a statue nor as obvious as a name, but its effects would be more lasting and its meaning more valuable than any other single thing we could do.

Let us, as citizens of the Council were Charles Debenack, president and business manager; Walter Doering, vice president; Albert DeKuester, financial secretary; Herman Magill, corresponding secretary; Henry Bartz, treasurer; and Frank Sohr, warden.

Alfred Milotte, Appleton native, was a color photographer for Walt Disney and four of the Oscar-winning movies which he photographed included "Seal Island," "Beaver Island," "Nature's Half Acre" and "Water Birds." He and his wife were in Africa, taking pictures for the new Disney productions on the elephant and lion.

Harold Pelton was elected president of the Menasha unit of the American Federation of Teachers. Other officers included Miss Agnes Woederick, vice president, Miss Frances Buboiz, secretary, and Carl Steffin, reelected treasurer.

Dr. Ben Greenwood, Oshkosh, was named president of the Winnebago County Medical Society. He succeeded Dr. John Nebel, Neenah. Dr. John Conway, Menasha, was elected president-elect, and Dr. George Hildebrand, Neenah, was elected secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Wilbur Frey, Mrs. Gerald Bunkowske and Mrs. Erwin Froehlich were in charge of the Christmas party given by the Bethlehem Lutheran Ladies Aid of Hortonville.

Fox Valley, band together in a united effort to state in a very affirmative way that

"All people, regardless of race, creed or national origin are welcome in the Fox Cities as visitors or as residents; that they may have all the rights, privileges and responsibilities which we enjoy; that their children are welcome to go to school with our children; that they are welcome as members of our churches, our clubs, our fraternal and professional organizations and our political parties; and that they may be considered for employment here on the same basis as everyone else."

If we are to achieve orderly and effective integration in our communities, with a minimum of tension, suffering and economic hardship for us all, some such statement of principles as this must be made and supported by the officials of our city; the ministers of our churches; the teachers in our schools; the presidents and officers of our clubs and organizations; the people who are leaders in our political parties and those who would seek public office. Most important of all, every person—the home owner, the real estate agent, the parent, the student, the business man, regardless of who he is or where he may live—should give his support, too. So many people believe in these things but do not act on their belief. Now is the time to do so!

John F. Kennedy showed great courage in many of his decisions as President. He asked us to help him in his monumental tasks. The opportunity is now presented to us as never before. We in the Fox Cities can see to it that his life and death were not in vain by helping to fulfill one of his cherished dreams—a united America where there is equal opportunity for all its people.

Hanson Criticism Unjust, Quoted Out of Context

Editor, Post-Crescent:

I am surprised at your editorial staff. Certainly your experienced newspaper personnel know the dangers of forming a judgment of someone based on a statement taken out of context, and therefore easily misunderstood.

You neither mentioned that the State Republican Chairman also had said that Republican organizational work would go on even though partisan activity, i.e. criticism of Democratic policy and the administration, would be suspended, nor did you give Louis Hanson's statement in full. In fact, you misinterpreted his meaning completely.

At a time of such a great national tragedy, and for many of us, including Mr. Hanson, of real personal loss, most people feel inadequate to help the situation or reverse the tragedy. So one does what one can: each in his own way, using his own talents.

For Democrats, who not only respected President Kennedy but believed deeply in the things for which he stood, the only way we have to bear witness to our feelings of loss is to work the harder to bring his goals to fruition.

This means the organizational work of politics goes on. President Kennedy is dead—we miss him terribly—to suspend our organizational work would be a betrayal, not a testimonial to his memory. I do hope his death won't provoke any arguments about who is best at being in mourning, or wasn't that what you were inferring?

Is Special Session On Highway Program Really an Emergency?

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The decision of Gov. Reynolds to recall the legislature, through his authority to summon a special session of the law-making branch, will raise the question whether the highway building program he proposes meets the definition of "extraordinary" cause as used in the state constitution.

It will force comparisons also with the special sessions summoned occasionally by predecessor governors, most of which related to emergency situations or emergency needs as those governors and their constituencies understood them.

Is the governor's anxiety to enact a broader highway building program now, rather than next April when the legislature will return under its own powers, an "emergency"?

A critic, or a reluctant member of the legislature, might find some arguments against it.

HISTORICAL BACKGROUND

For example, a study by the legislative library a few years ago on the historical background of the special session rule remarked:

"Generally speaking, a special session results from one or more items which are considered so important that real and substantial hardship will result from the failure to act promptly."

Precedents here are suggestive. The last preceding special session was called by former Gov. Nelson, who was concerned with what he felt was a default of the legislature on the reapportionment issue. Subsequent decisions of the U. S. Supreme Court and other tribunals have fortified his definition of the exigency of that cause.

In 1958 former Gov. Vernon W. Thomson, a Republican, was persuaded to summon the legislature into extraordinary session. He was concerned about signs of an economic recession at that time and asked the law-makers to return to consider a broadening of the unemployment compensation program, which they did.

Even more telling are the causes that moved other governors in this century to call extraordinary sessions. They did so sparingly, but when they did they anchored the call to major and emergency questions, such as unemployment relief in the early depression period, the repeal of the prohibition laws after the elimination of the U. S. prohibition amendment, emergency financial problems, and after World War II, such matters as the elimination of the war-time rent and other controls, and the provision of emergency housing for returning war veterans.

ANXIOUS

Gov. Reynolds is understandably anxious about the success of the highway crash construction program about which he has thought deeply and on which he has planned long. But he is in effect asking the legislature to do something quickly which he evolved in a fashion more leisurely.

The governor's original bill was brought into the legislature in July, which was late in the term, and coincided with the desperate strains of the tax crisis of that time. When the lawmakers returned in November and the governor was convinced that the original blue-print had little chance for enactment, he brought in a substitute on the eve of the legislative recess.

Something like the governor's crash program will ultimately become law, big spending, higher taxation and huge bonding features and all.

But the chances are poor that he can win its enactment now, whatever his anxiety, and whatever cloak of emergency he employs.

Aside from the partisan division which is involved, the legislative machinery is simply not equipped to take such a profoundly important step so precipitately. The governor will probably have to be content to be recorded as the author of a plan to be enacted another day. If it has the popular appeal he claims, it may conceivably help him win its enactment in his second term.

Our Greatest Gap in Knowledge — Children

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

"If we survive this crisis of war," said the man across the dinner table, "if we do not annihilate ourselves and the world becomes less stable — then what do you think is the primary, and most important, problem the human race should concern itself with?"

I assumed he expected me to answer in some grand socio-politico-economic-philosophical fashion, but I did not. "Children," I said. "The problem of children."

He seemed astonished. "How can children constitute the primary problem? Are you suggesting we must start with their education in order to make the world a better place to live in?"

"Nothing so banal as that," I replied. "I am suggesting that we devote more of our efforts to study babies from the moment they are born, to learn exactly the nature of the process of maturation, to know which stimuli and which influences are beneficial and which are harmful."

"Don't we know enough of that yet?" he asked.

"Hardly anything. We have barely scratched the surface. We are spending billions to investigate outer space, and pennies to look into the essential structure of the human being from birth to maturity."

He thought I was being captious or perverse, but I was not. To me, there is absolutely no hope for future development of the human species unless we unwrap the mysteries of infancy and childhood. For it is in the earliest years that we go wrong, through ignorance, through willfulness, through impatience and arrogance and love that is not only blind but deaf, dumb and lame as well.

Which forces, which treatment, which emotional and social climate would best produce the kind of human beings we would like to see — human beings generous and flexible, responsive and alert, poised easily and delicately between strength and tenderness?

As yet, we can only make some shrewd guesses. Our samples are too small, our experiments too brief, our expenditures too scanty. The amount of superstition is enormous compared with the amount of fact. Our children are still riddles to us: as infants, they are even more enigmatic. We do the most damage without knowing we are doing any at all.

Yet, since man is a creature continually making himself (and sometimes unmaking himself), it seems evident to me that the conscious "making process" must begin much earlier than it does if we are to turn out people in the future who are capable of sustaining and ennobling human life. Perhaps we cannot; but, if so, then the socio-politico-economic-philosophical problems will remain where they have always been.

McCormack Remains in Presidential Succession

BY JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — John W. McCormack, 71-year-old speaker of the House, has just about put the finish on any chance of making it impossible for him to move up to the presidency.

If President Johnson should die then, under present law next in line to succeed him are McCormack of Massachusetts and 86-year-old Carl Hayden of Arizona, president pro tempore of the Senate. Both are Democrats.

In American history there have been only three laws controlling succession to the presidency: The first in 1792, the next in 1886, the last in 1947.

Founding Fathers
The founding fathers, when they put the Constitution together, ducked the problem of saying who should assume the powers of the presidency if the president and vice president died. They left it to Congress.

Congress passed its first act in this field in 1792. It put the Senate's president pro tempore and the speaker of the House next in succession behind the vice president.

It stayed that way undisturbed until President Garfield's assassination in 1881. At the time he was shot, it happened that the House had not chosen a speaker and the Senate had no president pro tempore. For five years there was discussion and debate.

Law Changed
Then in 1886 Congress changed the law, eliminating the two congressional officers and putting the president's Cabinet in line of succession, starting with the secretary of state.

Another 59 years passed and in April 1945, President Franklin D. Roosevelt died. Vice President Harry S. Truman became president. If Truman had died then, under the 1886 law, his successor would have been Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius Jr.

On June 19, 1945, eight days before he accepted Stettinius' resignation, Truman asked Congress to change the 1886 law. He wanted the Cabinet taken out of direct line of succession.

1886 Law
He argued that under the 1886 law a president, since he picks his own Cabinet, could name his own successor. "I do not believe," he said, "that in a democracy this power should rest with the chief executive."

He said he thought that, as far as possible, the office of president should be filled by an elected officer, not an appointed one. So he asked Congress to abolish the 1886 act and return to the 1792 act, but with a switch.

Instead of making the Senate's president pro tempore next in line, Truman said the speaker of the House should come behind the vice president and then the Senate's president pro tempore.

More Democratic
Truman said he considered this more democratic because the speaker of the House and all House members have to be elected every two years while senators face the voters only every six. Not everyone agreed with him.

For instance: Edward S. Corwin, the constitutional authority, wrote: "The caliber of our speakers, in the main, has been somewhat below what the presidency requires and deserves. If speakers are compared with our secretaries of state, the result is decidedly in favor of the secretaries."

There was some irony in what followed. Truman had made his request to a Congress run by his own Democrats. They ignored him. He didn't get action until the Republicans took control of Congress in 1947.

A Combination
They changed the law, making it a kind of combination of the 1886 and 1792 laws, for this was the result, still in effect:

Next in line behind the vice president are the speaker of the House, the Senate's president pro tempore, and the Cabinet, starting with the secretary of state.

This was doubly ironic, for when the Republicans passed this act, two Republicans were in line of succession to Democratic Truman if he died, since there was no vice president then: Speaker of the House Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts and Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, president pro tempore of the Senate.

Cause of Frigidity Usually Psychological

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. an should see a gynecologist (specialist in feminine diseases) to help overcome frigidity or alternatively her personal physician.

MRS. M.D. Since the cause of frigidity is usually psychological, the answer might be "consult a psychiatrist." However, if one is not readily available what other approach is there?

Sex is a basic biological drive, and when it is absent or rather when it is thwarted or suppressed, the point is to figure out why.

Quite a few factors can be involved. Leading among them are: early training concerning sex activity—the imparting of an attitude is "training"; a distorted moral viewpoint; distaste for the physical aspects; overwhelming modesty; lack of love for or subtle resentment of your mate; fear of pregnancy.

Physical factors may be present. Infection or other disorders of the genital tract can be a cause, not necessarily recognized by the patient.

So, with this in mind, a woman be prepared to discuss the subject frankly. If you approach the interview with restraint and reservations, and don't expose the facts, there will be no solution.

The problem does not always rest with the woman. Some husbands are basically at fault and will not admit it, whether from ignorance or pride. Your doctor may be able to talk to him, but he must have the facts or he won't make any progress.

Frigidity is not a rare problem for a doctor and particularly a gynecologist, to deal with. You'll find that he takes it much more matter-of-factly than you thought, and the interview will go much more easily than you expected.

Red Marks

Dear Dr. Molner: I am a 15-year-old girl and have been developing "marks" on my thighs that look like scars, but aren't. Sometimes the color, which is red, disappears. Could this be a rash? Can it be cured? C.C.

They are probably stretch marks. Are you overweight? Skins vary in texture, and some, when stretched, get these marks. There is no cure for them, but the color gradually fades.

Dear Dr. Molner: My husband broke out with a brown pigment that has been diagnosed as mycotic fibrosis. The dermatologist says it can be cleared with X-ray, but isn't this treatment dangerous, and a cause of cancer?

It's a fungus type of skin disease and requires a vigorous treatment; hence X-ray. Properly used, X-ray is not dangerous and does not cause cancer. So don't worry.

True, in earlier days, X-ray sometimes caused skin cancer, but it was the doctors, rather than the patients, who suffered from it. After years of work, they were gradually exposed to too much radiation from stray rays. Today better focussing and much better shielding prevent this.

Shingles can be a painful disease. To receive a copy of my pamphlet, "The Facts About Shingles," write Dr. Molner in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10c in coin to cover handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Gift Wrapping Company Sees Top Spending

Survey Estimates Yuletide Purchases At $8.39 Billion

Despite a short buying period between Thanksgiving and Dec. 25 this year, the American public will continue to spend at a record high level of $8,394,000,000 for Christmas presents in 1963.

This total estimated national Yuletide spending spree represents an increase of three percent over the $8.15 billion estimated last year. The figures are based on the annual survey of the United States gift market by Tie-Tie (a division of Chicago Printed String Co.), the nation's largest maker of decorative gift wrappings.

Christmas gift expenditures will be up 14 per cent over four years ago, it was estimated by Sol Weiser, president of CPS. Per family expenditures are estimated at $168. The typical U. S. family spent $147 in 1959, $154 in 1960, $161 in 1961 and $163 for presents last Yuletide, according to the estimates.

The main increase this year will come in the amount paid per gift rather than in the total number of gifts given—which remains fairly steady at an estimated 1,500,000,000 or about 30 per family. The estimated average cost per present this year will be $5.59.

The study also shows people will buy Christmas gift wrappings at the rate of $4.23 per family, a 1.5 per cent increase over last year. Twelve per cent of the purchases total more than $10. This represents a Christmas gift wrapping market of more than $200 million or about 20 per cent of the annual national gift wrapping market of around $270 million.

The continuing study is based on nearly 700 interviews with husbands and housewives in 45 of the 50 states.

The majority of families, seven out of 10, spend "whatever is necessary" rather than setting any limit. Of the 31 per cent of the families which set a limit on their holiday expenditures, one-third say they usually exceed the budget.

Four out of ten families expect to spend under $100 for Christmas presents this year and another 33 per cent between the $100 and $200 levels. The market by Tie-Tie (a division of Chicago Printed String Co.) is based on the annual survey of the United States gift market by Tie-Tie (a division of Chicago Printed String Co.), the nation's largest maker of decorative gift wrappings.

Face-Drawing Game Fun To Play at Party-Time

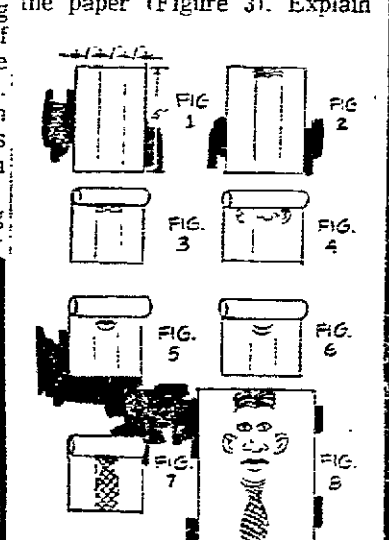

BY CAPPY DICK

The face-drawing game which is today's project is fun to play at a party. No one has to be an artist to contribute to the entertainment.

Start by giving each guest a piece of paper five inches long and three inches wide each of which must be ruled into three vertical sections as in Figure 1, making each section an inch wide. These will be guide lines to keep all the facial features in line.

The contest begins by having each player draw funny looking hair at the top of the middle column as in Figure 2. Each player folds the top of his paper over and passes it to the next player. The players now draw eyes on the paper (Figure 3). Explain that all features must be within the guide lines, except the ears. After the eyes have been drawn, each player folds his paper and passes it to the next player who then draws the nose and the ears (Figure 4). The ears are drawn outside the guide lines.

The papers are folded and passed again and the mouths are drawn (Figure 5). Folded again, they are passed to the next players and the chins are drawn (Figure 6).

Once again the papers are folded and passed and neckties are drawn (Figure 7).

The final step is the unfolding of the papers, disclosing the completed faces (Figure 8) to all the party guests. The pictures are sure to be funny to see.

represents the desires of the people.
Under the Canadian or British system, for instance, if the people vote one party out of power, this means that the prime minister has to leave office at the same time, and a new premier is then selected out of the majority membership of the national legislature. Even if there has been no election, the majority party can change the prime minister, and if the incumbent refuses to resign, the people can decide the issue in an election held to determine whether the dissenters or the members who support the prime minister are right. The people decide.

Cabinet officers in this country usually are selected for their competence in particular fields of executive responsibility. A secretary of state or a secretary of the treasury is rarely a leader in the Democratic or the Republican party, and hence has no intimate experience with Congress — something very important in the presidential office.

Other Countries
In Canada, in Great Britain, in Australia, the cabinet which is selected from the party members in a Parliament consists as a rule of men who have come up through the ranks of the party — just as Lyndon Johnson did. While in recent years there has been a tendency in this country to put a majority or minority leader from one house of Congress or the other on the ticket as the vice-presidential nominee, no provision has been made for all possible successors to be selected from Congress.
The 1947 law does designate the speaker of the House and the president pro tem of the Senate to follow the vice president in presidential succession, and both are, of course, party leaders in their respective houses. The speaker is chosen just after the congressional election, held every two years. The president pro tem of the Senate also is elected every two years at the start of a new session of Congress because the seats of one-third of the Senate's membership have been up for election.

Present Law
The present law is satisfactory as far as it goes in providing that the leaders of the two houses of Congress are next in line after the vice president. The real defect in it is in the succession beyond these two individuals. This could be a problem if the accidents of fate, including war, should wipe out the top leaders in both branches of the government.

The present statute needs amendment to make it crystal clear that the succession will not go to the cabinet if anything happens to a speaker of the House who has become president, but that the power will definitely pass to the next individual who has been elected speaker of the House or to be president pro tem of the Senate. Each of these officials should always be someone in a leadership position who knows the legislative branch of the government and, through his service on congressional committees, has become familiar with departmental problems on the executive side.

The duties of cabinet officers, on the other hand, today are confined pretty much to the routine of their own departments.
For that reason, the late President Kennedy held few cabinet meetings. He depended instead, as did other presidents, on an anonymous staff of presidential assistants who were not nominated for confirmation by the senate, and in whose selection the people's representatives therefore have had no voice.
This weakness has been apparent in many administrations, irrespective of party.
